Jitney Service During Strike Out, Says Mayor

Possibility of establishing a jitney service in Victoria during the current tie-up of streetcars and buses was ruled out today by Mayor Percy George.

Mayor George said he had received many requests from persons anxious to have some sort of emergency service set up for the duration of the strike. He has referred all of them to the city solicitor and the City Council.

Under the terms of the franchise agreement signed this summer with the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd., the B.C.E.R. was given an exclusive franchise for transportation within the city thus making a jitney service a breach of this contract.

Only exceptions made are covered by a special section of the City of Victoria Act of 1920 and are incorporated in Clause 3 of the agreement. The exceptions permit motor buses which do not carry passengers for hire from any point within Greater Victoria to any other point in Greater Victoria to operate, taxicabs, sightseeing buses, church and school buses are also allowed, but no others.

AFFECTS FELT

Meanwhile the strike of the 2,850 Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster B.C.E.R. transportation workers is beginning to be felt.

While at the start of the strike last Monday Victoria theatre managers had reported little or no fall in attendance which could be attributed to the strike, noticeable reductions were recorded Wednesday night as rains swept the city.

Taxi companies, on the other hand, which had reported previously that no appreciable increase in demand for cabs had been noticed, said business Wednesday night was brisker than usual.

With no settlement in sight, officials of Lauck's Ltd., Vancouver manufacturing chemists, said a prolonged strike would force them to close down. The plant, employing 75 persons, is serviced by the B.C.E.R. Freight shipments to the plant were halted by pickets Wednesday. Stock on hand will last less than a month.

At the same time officials of industrial plants in suburban New Westminster and Vancouver districts, said failure of engineers to operate on tram lines servicing their industries, would seriously hamper production.

B.C. To Consider Holiday For Nov. 20

Passengers Safe, Grounded Ship Awaits Salvage Tugs

In a dense fog the S.S. Manchester City went on rocks in the St. Lawrence River 92 miles below Quebec City. No one was injured. The passengers went over the side and down rope ladders into lifeboats, and were carried to Montreal by a coaster. This picture was taken while the captain and crew awaited the arrival of enough tugs to pull the vessel off into deep water.

Ramadier Says de Gaulle Party Hits Will Of People; Scores Leftists Too

PARIS (AP)—Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier, his new streamlined cabinet facing an Assembly test next week, assailed the party of Gen. de Gaulle today as one which attacks both the will of the people and the Fourth Republic itself.

A member of Ramadier's staff said the Premier would ask the National Assembly, which reconvenes Tuesday in an emergency session, for a vote of confidence in the cabinet from which he Wednesday purged ministers suspected of De Gaulle leanings. The vote is expected to come next Thursday.

The Premier lashed out at both the Left and the Right in France. He declared it had been necessary to recall the Assembly from its vacation to consult with the deputies concerning "danger to the Republic" which he held was inherent in both the De Gaulle and Communist ideologies.

CONSTITUTION ISSUE

He spoke with special sharpness of De Gaulle's proposal to rewrite the constitution of the Fourth Republic. Such a proposal is an attack on "the will of the people" and "an attack on the Republic."

Ramadier added that his new cabinet was preparing a plan to overcome France's economic crisis. An economic program of financial stabilization and administrative reform would be submitted when the National Assembly met.

Labor movements in France today were "being transformed into political movements," he charged. "The objective of these movements is the collapse of French authority and the halting of French production."

"On the other hand," he said, "there is another diametrically opposed political agitation which is aimed at overthrowing the political foundations with which the people have endowed themselves."

The Premier said both these forces are "attacking the republic at the very moment when union is needed."

GRAVE MOMENT

"That is the danger the government must face. In such a grave moment, the government feels it must consult parliament."

3 Women, 1 Child In Hospital After Collision At Duncan

Three women and a three-year-old girl are in King's Daughters Hospital, Duncan, following a collision between two Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd. buses half a mile north of Cowichan Bay this morning.

Three others, including one of the bus drivers, were treated at the hospital and later sent home. Hospital officials report many others attended suffering shock and minor injuries.

In hospital are: Mrs. Eva Weismuller, Gibbons Road, Duncan, fractured jaw; Lois Weismuller, aged three, head injuries.

Mrs. Louisa Connolly, Wicks Road, Duncan, fractured pelvis; Mrs. Agnes Joughlin, school teacher, 636 Trunk Road, Duncan, fractured pelvis.

The three who were treated and later released were: L. W. Babbs, bus driver; Alexander Street, Duncan, who suffered an injured back and elbow.

Charles R. Tate, school teacher, Mary Street, Duncan, head injuries.

John W. Austin, retired engineer, Cobble Hill, leg injuries.

B.C. police at Duncan reported the accident occurred just north of Cowichan Bay when a south-bound bus apparently went out of control going down hill and swerved around to strike a second bus, also headed south, which had stopped to pick up passengers.

The impact of the swerving bus, which hit the parked vehicle with its left rear end, threw passengers violently about in the bus, and injured Mr. Babbs, who was taking tickets in the parked bus, police said.

Police believe the shatterproof glass in the bus windows saved many passengers from more serious injuries.

De Gaulle has criticized the constitution of the Fourth French Republic, adopted by referendum Oct. 13, 1946, on the ground that it gives too much power to the legislature and too little to the executive.

In a new list of ministers presented to President Vincent Auriol shortly after midnight, Ramadier trimmed the cabinet from 25 members—12 Socialists, six members of the Mouvement Republicain Populaire (M.R.P.), five Radical Socialists and two independents—to 13—seven Socialists, three M.R.P., two Radical Socialists and one Independent.

U.N. Told Russia Would Gag U.S.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (CP)—The United States today assailed Russia's attempt to curb alleged American "war-mongers" as a move which "would put shackles on the brain of man as well as a gag in his mouth."

Delegate Warren R. Austin, speaking before the 57-member political and security committee of the United Nations, declared the Soviet Union's resolution on "war-mongering," which is before the committee, was an attempt to "apply shackles" to the minds of the American people.

Austin also attacked the Soviet resolution as a violation of the U.N. charter and said: "It seeks to nullify and make meaningless our pledge to respect human rights and fundamental freedoms."

Replying to Wednesday's attack by Andrei Vishinsky, chief of the Soviet delegation, against the former Secretary of State, James F. Byrnes, Austin said Vishinsky had given "a grossly distorted idea" of Byrnes' beliefs.

"This most fundamental freedom—of free speech—which is necessary for the maintenance of good government, would wither in the presence of the power of men to put shackles on the minds and tapes on the lips of such great statesmen as James F. Byrnes."

Bill To Free Burma Given To Commons

LONDON (Reuter)—Prime Minister Atlee today presented two new bills in the House of Commons.

The first provides for the establishment of a colonial development corporation with a capital of £100,000,000 ($400,000,000) to speed up colonial production.

The second provides for the independence of Burma outside the British Commonwealth.

Cripps Gravely Warns Economic Fall Might Be Democratic Death-Blow

Selection Team To Pick 2,100 D.P.'s For Mines

TORONTO (CP)—A four-man selection team will head for Europe about the end of October to pick 2,100 displaced persons for employment in metal mines across Canada—about 40 per cent for Ontario mines, 40 per cent for Quebec and 20 per cent for other provinces.

The Canadian Metal Mining Association, announcing some details of the plan today, said it expected about 500 workers would arrive in November. If that rate should be maintained the movement would be complete about the end of February.

Most of the men for Ontario will work in the Porcupine, Kirkland Lake and northwestern Ontario gold fields, with a few heading for the Sudbury district nickel mines. The western-bound workers are destined for British Columbia and Manitoba.

The association said the number of immigrants was based on applications from individual mines. Jobs are available for all 2,100, but even this influx will not meet the metal industry's labor requirements.

THOROUGH SYSTEM
The association predicts it may be necessary to examine four or five displaced persons for every one accepted in view of the necessity of making sure that all immigrants have sound lungs—an important factor in metal mining operations with their danger of silicosis.

Highly satisfactory reports have been received by the mining men from the forest industries which brought a number of displaced persons to Canada this year. The bush workers were drawn mainly from Balts, Poles and Ukrainians, and the same nationalities will probably furnish most of the mine help.

The displaced persons come under a 10-month contract. They are to receive the prevailing wage in the locality to which they are sent, with provision that they get a guaranteed minimum of 75 cents an hour. They will be housed by the mines. Single men will be accepted if they agree to accept single status and come to Canada without their families.

INCREASE OF 7 CENTS

Workers in plants operated by these two companies were understood of having been offered wage increases of 7 cents an hour. The union, in calling the strike, sought a 17-cent increase. Any further hike will be a matter for consideration at arbitration meetings scheduled to be held under Charles P. McTague, chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission.

Mr. McTague's appointment as arbitrator of differences between the union and the Canada Packers and Burns Companies was one of the day's top developments. Prior to his acceptance

LONDON (AP)—Britain today banned tobacco imports from the United States and announced new cuts in food imports as the government warned that economic collapse probably would mean the end of British democracy.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Minister of Economic Affairs, said the tobacco ban would save about £5,000,000 ($20,000,000) this year.

"Before tobacco sales start again next summer, we shall be able to decide whether and how far we are able to re-enter the market," he added.

Warning that while present stocks will enable consumption to be maintained until next summer, Sir Stafford said that the people consumed much now, and they might get little next year. The total savings by next summer would be between £8,000,000 and £10,000,000.

The ban announced today means severe new hardships, to be felt within a short time, for British smokers who already pay 3s 4d (68 cents) for 20 cigarettes.

The move was announced in the House of Commons by Sir Stafford, who at the same time announced a cut of £200,000,000 a year in government and private expenditures for new homes, new factories and new plant machinery.

He predicted even deeper austerity for the British people, Britain, said Sir Stafford.

"We have stopped all purchases of U.S. tobacco until further decision."

"This will save about £5,000,000 on this year's allocation..."

Trade sources said Britain has enough tobacco on hand for two years' consumption at the present rate.

Problem To Sell Goods For Dollars

Sir Stafford stated Britain's dollar crisis was due not to inability to manufacture enough goods, but to inability to sell goods for dollars.

"The implementation of the Marshall Plan would be of the greatest help to us over the next few years, but we are bound to proceed on the basis that we must help ourselves to the utmost, whatever others may do or not do."

Britain aimed to export £45,000,000 worth of goods to dollar markets next year over and above the target laid down last August. In addition, he said, Britain will reduce raw material imports from dollar areas by $100,000,000 a year.

Sir Stafford's assertion that "capital expenditures must be cut immediately by £200,000,000" was the first definite government statement that so extensive a cut in capital expenditures would be made. Left-wing members have opposed restricting the housing program, a major plank in Labor's 1945 election platform.

The ministry told the House that both government and private capital spending would be affected.

The building of some factories, he said, will have to be stopped altogether unless intended to contribute to the export program or "some other essential need."

The minister said the problem of balancing trade with dollar countries was far more difficult than the problem of balancing "total overseas payments."

Meat Famine Over As Packers Work After Strike Of 5½ Weeks

By Canadian Press
Canada's meat packing plants moved towards full-scale production today under the impetus of a "back-to-work" call by the top official of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.) ending a 5½ weeks strike involving 14,000 workers at its peak.

Fred Dowling, the union's national organizer, made the disclosure of the official end of the strike in issuance of instructions from Toronto Wednesday night for all locals to "contact their management offices to arrange for returning to work."

Mr. Dowling's statement revealed simultaneously that a majority of the local unions in plants of Canada Packers and Burns and Company, two of the industry's "Big Three," had voted in favor of accepting an "arbitration formula."

Workers in plants operated by these two companies were understood of having been offered wage increases of 7 cents an hour. The union, in calling the strike, sought a 17-cent increase. Any further hike will be a matter for consideration at arbitration meetings scheduled to be held under Charles P. McTague, chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission.

Swift Canadian, other major meat packing concern in the country, came to an agreement with the union earlier this week on strike settlement terms which called for pay boosts of 10 cents an hour.

Mr. McTague's appointment as arbitrator of differences between the union and the Canada Packers and Burns Companies was one of the day's top developments. Prior to his acceptance

Big Gale Sweeping Toward B.C. Coast

Provincial weather office in Vancouver announced that an unusually intense storm, located some 600 miles from the Queen Charlotte Islands this morning, was moving towards the B.C. coast. Gales are expected to be general along the coast this evening, with winds reaching a velocity of 75 miles per hour and possibly higher, along the northern coastal areas.

PROGRESS ON WATER THE INTEREST SHOWN BY REPRESENTATIVES of Saanich and Oak Bay in the proposal for the establishment of a metropolitan water board to develop and administer the utility for the benefit of Greater Victoria reflects an honest appreciation of responsibilities to those who placed them in office. Relatively few subjects can be of greater importance to a municipality than water of health-preserving purity and of sufficient quantity to meet the needs of its people. Nor can these municipal representatives be unmindful of the extensive improvements now required in the system which serves this community. For these reasons they have demonstrated a willingness to meet representatives of the city around the table to determine what steps may be taken to place the control and development of the water supply on the most efficient basis. Neither municipality, be it noted, is able to furnish as much of the commodity as its domestic consumers want during the periods of sustained hot weather. Self-interest, if nothing else, dictates a very specific concern in negotiations to be initiated on the question. Self-interest alone, however, will not be sufficient to ensure the maximum value from deliberations now about to begin. The city, for instance, could, by an expenditure of $1,500,000, make adequate provision for its own citizens and its present customers. Under existing circumstances, it might be justified in limiting planning of expenditure to that amount. But if any credence is to be placed in scientific estimates of population increases, the work that could be done for that sum would be inadequate to cope with the requirements of the enlarged community confidently expected on the southern end of Vancouver Island—and within the Victoria water district—in the not distant future. Competent authority has set $5,000,000 as a round figure to cover the development necessary to make ample provision for a population up to 250,000. Victoria, by itself, should not be expected to, and probably could not, underwrite such an expenditure. Its magnitude, moreover, is such that all municipalities concerned should bear a share of it, or of the fraction of the total deemed essential by experts to conduct development along lines calculated to meet future needs. The perspective in which the situation should be seen, we submit, is not one restricted to the limited view of immediate necessities. It must take in a vision of the future. More people on the southern end of Vancouver Island are going to use more water as the years roll by. It would be short sighted on the part of individuals currently in office to ignore that fact. They can catch up on present demands, or they can go further and make provision for the years to come. If they pursue the latter course, the expenditure they undertake will not be regarded in retrospect as false economy. Their children and their children's children will have reason to thank them. It is a task of magnitude and one which calls for some sacrifice of the immediate to the ultimate—a task, in fact, of statesmanship. STRANGE OBJECTION THOSE MEN AND WOMEN OF THIS and other communities who willingly assume responsibilities for the direction of a system of education calculated to develop a truly national and international cultural standard are seldom surprised when they become the target for brickbats intended to impress upon them the fatuous idea that they never should depart from a rigid curriculum. We mention this now because at a meeting of the Greater Victoria Board of School Trustees the other night a discussion arose which involved a proposal that the Victoria Symphony Orchestra be given permission to entertain the students of the Victoria High School on October 29 with a program of classical music—at no cost to the Board of School Trustees—which would consume no more than an hour of the time usually allocated to ordinary studies. Admittedly, Chairman Austin Curtis and Trustee Waldo Skillings are within their rights when they voice objections to any proposal with which they do not agree. But we submit, if a talented organization of local musicians arranges to give an hour of its time with the object of interesting the student body, certainly no official opposition should be encountered. After all, there is much in good music to stir the imagination and comfort the soul; and the tone poem obviously has its place in the classroom. Surely none of wider vision would object to such an offer as that which produced a difference of opinion between members of the Greater Victoria School Board. The Victoria Symphony Orchestra is to be congratulated on its educational awareness in providing this cultural opportunity for the High School, and those members of the School Board who perceived its value are also to be commended. THEY HAVE NO PLACE IT WILL BE NOTED IN RESPECT OF the reports which tell of pro-Fascist activities in London's East End that there has been no attempt by the authorities to silence the street corner speakers who are trying to stir up anti-Jewish and other disruptive sentiments. Such rabble rousers, despite their dangerous outpourings, are permitted to have their say, as part of the rights which they are guaranteed under democracy. Unpleasant as their speeches must be to the decent men and women of Britain, that right cannot be made selective. It is equally evident from the reports, however, that the Fascist street gangs are not willing to allow to others the freedom of which they themselves take advantage. They have gathered in strength in various East End areas on Sundays to break up the meetings of those with whom they disagree. The Fascist knows but one argument—the weight of the club and the fist. There is no indication that this movement has grown to any great proportions, although it has been hinted that the return of Sir Oswald Mosley to active leadership of the group might give it some impetus. The one-time Fascist leader, following release from wartime imprisonment, is now in retirement on his farm, his political activity restricted to the writing of tracts. It is difficult to visualize the type of British citizens who provide the support for this mountebank and his very un-British program. The street bully, the thief, the weakling who aspires to boss his fellowmen, who has not the courage to operate on his own but seeks safety in the guise of gang membership—these must form the basis of the group. The fact that they have taken cover under the name of an ex-servicemen's organization will not serve to confuse public opinion in regard to their nature. A nuisance alike in peace as it was in war, the steady British citizen should lose little time in crushing this anachronistic hangover by sheer weight of public opinion. IS THIS COMMON SENSE? THE PEOPLE OF VICTORIA HAVE A clear appreciation of the importance of police administration. They should know, from experiences elsewhere, the dangers of disorganization. When they find their commissioners taking logical steps to ensure smooth transition of authority from those about to retire to younger men, they are entitled to consider such action an example of foresight. It comes somewhat as a surprise, therefore, to learn that Commissioner B. J. Gadsden is opposing his board colleagues on the appointment of a deputy police chief, and at the same time is declining to suggest an alternative. What does the alderman-commissioner want? As a servant of the public, Commissioner Gadsden owes it to his supporters at the polls to make clear his position. He has informed his colleagues that he will not be a rubber stamp for the chief or anyone else, that he is using his common sense to determine if the recommendation from the chief is good or bad, and that the exercise of that common sense is one of his justifications for being in office. Well and good. It devolves upon the commissioner, however, to furnish proof that he is exercising that faculty. An explanation of his stand appears in order. Until they are further enlightened, the citizens of this community will be inclined to think preparation now for the transfer of authority to a new chief in the near future is a common-sense procedure. Victoria wants no hasty and ill-considered appointment. On the other hand, the city does not want obstruction purely for obstruction's sake. If the commissioner has legitimate criticism to offer, let him make it public at once. TROUBLESOME GHOSTS BEING OF THIS EARTH, EARTHY, WE are in no position to venture intelligent opinion on the psychic phenomenon which is allegedly troubling the owner of a Bedfordshire house in rural England's Apsley Guise, and furnishing grounds—if such a solid noun may be used—for his request to have the assessment on his property lowered. According to the owner, the house is haunted and consequently he deems its value depreciated. Mediums are supposed to have "seen" a "ghostly, grey face," a "tremendous black horse," a beautiful girl and an old man who whispers in its rooms. The accounts of these non-material presences are claiming the interest of readers in Britain and in other parts of the world. Ghost stories have a weird fascination for those untroubled in psychic lore. They will probably continue to have that appeal as long as man remains imaginative and endowed with supernatural essence certain things that are not understood. But from the unique controversy which stirs Apsley Guise emerges a provocative thought. To many people the unquiet dead of the suspected house are very real. What of the more malignant spectres that are being raised throughout the world? Shall they be allowed to drive so-called sane humanity into irrational conduct? The visitants at Apsley Guise are a source of trouble to a minority in a relatively small centre. There are more important ghosts to be laid in the world at large if men and women are to achieve the untroubled peace of which they dream. When a nation becomes reconciled to conditions that would have horrified it ten years before, its moral fibre has rotted. There is no reason why college graduates shouldn't be cooks and maids—but why study medicine if you intend to plow? Matter Of Fact By JOSEPH ALSOP, from Athens TIME FOR DECISION IN EVERY NERVE CENTRE OF Europe, the same phenomenon repeats itself with a kind of crude monotony. Because the United States has been too little and too late in the past, demands are now pouring in on Washington from every quarter for instantaneous decisions of the gravest character, affecting the whole American future. As these words are written, the harassed artisans of American policy are probably being pressed for still another such decision by Ambassador to Greece Lincoln MacVeagh and the chief of military intelligence, Major General William Chamberlain. Under the Greek-Turkish aid program, the American mission ably headed by Dwight Griswold is already charged with superintending Greek economic reconstruction and supplying the Greek army. A SEMBLANCE OF PEACE must first be restored to strife-torn Greece, however, if this American investment is not to be fruitless. Therefore, the signs are here in Athens that MacVeagh and Chamberlain will recommend American assumption of a third, really crucial responsibility in Greece—the responsibility for advising the Greek army on the actual conduct of its operations against the Communist guerrillas. The Greek government has taken the initiative in requesting this further assistance, and has indicated willingness to attach a very special weight to American military "advice." If plans laid here go through, the Griswold mission will be supplemented by an American military operational staff. THE DECISION to send such a staff group will constitute open acknowledgement of an almost unlimited American strategic and political liability in Greece. Yet the remarkable body of men who are in charge of American effort here, are unanimous that the decision must be taken, and taken without any further delay. President Truman can give the order on his own responsibility, under his constitutional powers as commander in chief. He will be asked to do so. It must be admitted at once that these reports from Greece are intended only as spot checks on a vital national venture, and are therefore based entirely on intensive consultation with the Americans involved. As described by them, the position necessitating the radical new decision may be briefly outlined as follows: THE ANDARTES, as the Greek guerrillas are called, number only 18,000, and approximately 60 per cent of their strength is now composed of kidnapped forced recruits, held in line by threats to murder them and their families. This increasing reliance on forced recruits has two important meanings. The sources from which Communist volunteers were drawn have now almost dried up. And the Communist leaders of the Andartes, being unable to rely absolutely on their men, can no longer freely use their best guerrilla tactic of dispersal under attack. Thus the situation is favorable to a Greek army offensive. Unfortunately, however, the Greek army is now largely immobilized. Heavily superior forces are always needed against guerrillas, and especially in this case, where the guerrillas are invulnerably based and supplied in Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania. The British trained the Greek army of 140,000 men as the cadre of a much bigger force, and thus assigned all but 40,000 men to supply and other duties behind the lines. Finally, the employment of the 40,000 available effectives is unhappily influenced by politics. STUDENTS OF THE United States' own past will recall how, in the Civil War, the western armies were at first tied down by the need to guard the politically important border states. Greek politics are even more pervasive than American politics in the era of Secretary of War Simon Cameron. Politics demand the defence of the more important cities and towns in northern Greece, and thus the Greek army's effectives are almost all tied up on guard duty. In Thrace, where the situation is worst, the Greek army has a brigade, entirely dispersed in guard detachments, each within its own strong point. BUT THE GUERRILLAS also have a brigade, commonly operate in battalion strength, and now enjoy absolute freedom of movement by night. The countryside is terrorized. Communications are cut. The crops are not being harvested. The guarded strong points are full of abled-bodied peasants who have taken refuge from kidnapping. And, unless the trend is rapidly reversed, the situations must deteriorate further to the point where the people will accept even the rule of the Andartes as preferable to the present chaos. The remedy now planned is in two parts. First, newly formed, lightly armed national guard units will take over defence of the strong points, which is quite legitimately important. Second, largely to insulate military operations from politics, the American staff group will be sent to advise the Greek army in its offensive effort. The leading Americans here are convinced that this remedy will work, provided the Kremlin does not abandon its present flimsy pretence of non-intervention and order its Balkan puppet armies across the Greek border in naked aggression. But this would mean that the Kremlin wants war, which seems incredible. Copyright, 1947, New York Herald Tribune Inc. 'D'Yuh Want Me T'See What I Can Do With It?' Is There a Crisis In International Law? By ALBERT MOUSSET IS THERE a crisis in international law? Many thoughtful people all over the world are asking themselves this question. It must be admitted that appearances do point to a crisis. The chaotic state of international relations, the repeated obstacles encountered by the U.N.O., the delay in establishing peace, the atmosphere of violence in which conversations between governments take place, everything contributes today to the impression that there has been relaxing of the conceptions of international law which used to be in force in the civilized world. That is a psychological fact which was already apparent following the First World War—the dashing of the hopes and illusions which had been inspired by the victory of the free peoples. They believed then, as we still believe today, in a sort of irresistible force of universal opinion for peace and the institutions to safeguard it. NEW FACTORS But this time new factors have intervened to cause still further doubts as to the stability of the legal edifice which serves as the traditional basis of relations among nations. In the forefront of these new factors is the intrusion of "ideologies" into international law. Not only do they introduce into diplomatic relations an emotional element which unsettles those relations, but they also prevent the application of principles which had hitherto been accepted as permanent. Another departure from those principles is the innovation of settling territorial problems by mass transfers of populations, affected so quickly and arbitrarily as to place hundreds of thousands of human beings in a position covered by no stipulation of the law of human rights. On the other hand, the altered hierarchy of the powers and the inordinate expansion of two of them arouses some anxiety as to the survival of the idea of equality which was the basis of international law. 'DEFEATISM' Must we conclude that the law is fated to disappear and that the world of tomorrow will know no other law but that of force? That would be an infinitely dangerous form of "defeatism" if it became general. Against this, one can place a number of facts which show that even governments which practice the most revolutionary diplomacy are anxious to reconcile their actions with the law. For example, we see the Soviet Union constantly referring to the Potsdam agreements in discussions concerning the fate of Germany and entrenching itself behind the old adage pacta sunt servanda. In the same way, we see the governments of eastern Europe invoking (rightly or wrongly) the principles of international law with regard to the flight of foreign aircraft over their territory, the abuse of diplomatic immunity, or attacks on their sovereignty. The truth is that the world, as a French statesman expresses it, is in one of its great moulting periods. The unity of civilization has been dealt hard blows and thereby lost the alignment in which the human societies found the guarantee of their security. There is now a civilization of western Europe and a civilization of eastern Europe, an American civilization, an Islamic civilization, a Hindu civilization, an Oriental civilization. For each of these civilizations there is a corresponding conception of right and law. Less and less will they accept a hierarchy which subordinates them. RICHER AND MORE CONFUSED This is the state of legal relations among the human communities at present. It is a situation both richer and more confused. It will take time, a great deal of time, to lessen these contrasts. But the present tendency to place all problems on a world basis is giving rise to new institutions, new conferences, new contacts between peoples which never knew each other before. A new law is emerging under our very eyes but it is still impossible to say to what extent it will be an advance over the old conceptions which were based on Christianity and humanism. In addition, international life presents certain "constants" which it could not do without. The state of peace and collaboration is the normal state of human societies. War upsets it periodically. But the upset is temporary and, when it is over, the world must return to principles, willy-nilly, resume relations, negotiate, sign treaties, interpret them by traditional methods, rely once more on the good faith of the participants, even those which merit the least confidence. If the phoenix dies and is born again and again from its ashes, that proves not so much the fragility of its life as its eternal vigor. Billboard Battle In U.S. THE billboard industry, with a powerful lobby in every American state capital, is preparing a nationwide campaign to litter postwar highways with more, bigger and fancier signs, including even television on billboards. This means, warns New York State Senator Thomas C. Desmond, in The Reader's Digest for November, that roads will be cluttered as never before with dangerous scenery—destroying billboards, unless citizens act to prevent it. The Digest article is condensed from The American Mercury. So strong is the billboard lobby in Albany, Desmond says, that in his sixteen years' effort to prevent the disfiguring of roads his bills have been killed in committee or smothered by votes on the floor. A $150,000,000 public housing program which he sponsored was blocked until a billboard tax, included to help finance construction, was removed. The New York-Buffalo "thruway" measure was held up until a clause barring billboards was deleted. POWER PLAY The Outdoor Advertising Association of America, trade organization of the industry, disseminates propaganda and handles legislative activities. At a moment's notice, Desmond states, it can flood legislators with thousands of letters warning against the passage of any control bill. Labor's support is enlisted by telling unions that their members will be put out of work if a proposed anti-billboard measure is passed. Against the legislator who opposes it, the lobby foments political trouble in his home district and subsidizes his opposition. Many legislators are indebted to the lobby for free sign space during election time. To sell itself to the public, the industry donates space to charitable and civic causes. Ironically, Desmond observes, space is often given to safety campaigns, though an official survey disclosed that 1,521 billboards in New York State are traffic hazards. In urging community action against billboards, Desmond cites advances already made. A Blot-of-the-Month campaign, undertaken by various women's groups to announce the worst offending billboards, "has hit the lobby in a tender spot." Periodic boycotts sponsored by irate civic groups, pledged not to buy products advertised on offending signs, have caused the withdrawal of some advertising. Global Survey By DEWITT MACKENZIE A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst SOVIET RUSSIA has touched a new high in her aggression against democracy by boldly blazoning the means whereby the Communists figure that an economic crisis can be precipitated in the United States—an interesting corollary to the persistent predictions in the Red capital that the United States is headed for a great depression. The general idea is that if all European nations now affiliated with the Marshall plan will gang up with the Soviet bloc, and be steadfast in "opposing American slave loan conditions," Americans will be faced with an economic crisis stemming from lack of foreign demand for their production. Then, so this extraordinary proposal goes, anti-capitalist Russia can co-operate with capitalist European countries indefinitely on the basis of "reciprocity and mutual fulfillment of obligations." ZHDANOV SPEECH This fresh method of attack on the United States was detailed in a speech by Andrei Zhdanov—one of bolshevism's top figures—at a recent conference in Poland among representatives of Russia and her satellite countries of eastern Europe. The conference, with Zhdanov manipulating the strings of the marionette states, set up the so-called nine-country Communist information bureau which is functioning in Belgrade. That's what they called the committee, but observers generally hold that it has taken over many of the functions of the supposedly abolished Comintern, which long was the general staff for the conduct of Communist world revolution. The conference in Poland was held some weeks ago, but it was only yesterday that Moscow released Zhdanov's speech to the press. It's a highly interesting circumstance that this release comes on top of Gen. de Gaulle's sensational political comeback in the French country-wide municipal elections. Well now, what Zhdanov labels as an "imperialistic camp" includes the democracies of Europe plus the entire western hemisphere. And while his plot for a concerted effort to create economic crisis in the United States is news, it's no news either to the United States or the other democracies that Moscow has been doing its utmost to create chaos within their borders by the employment of Russian agents and with the assistance of fifth columnists and fellow travelers. MOVE AGAINST REDS The United States authorities are moving energetically to eliminate the Red menace at home. And other countries of this hemisphere are house-cleaning. Canada has smashed a big hole in the Russian spy ring whose ramifications extended throughout the Dominion and the United States. On top of this come sensational moves by Brazil and Chile. The Brazilian government has severed diplomatic relations with Moscow on the ground that there has been "outrageous and even calumnious" Russian press criticism of Brazil's president Enrico Gaspar Dutra and her army. At the same time Chile severed diplomatic and consular relations not only with Russia but with Czechoslovakia because of "instigations of international Communists," and began a round-up of Communist leaders. So the Soviet scheme for creation of economic chaos finds strong resistance in both the western hemisphere and among democracies like France and Britain. CLIPPED AT RANDOM HITS HOME Toronto Saturday Night The Dominion-Provincial Tourist Conference in Ottawa is going to try to stop exploitation of Americans visiting up here. But we thought the idea was that the visitors should be made to feel at home. JUST IN BETWEEN Edmonton Bulletin When British Labor took office there were many who believed that it would make for more co-operation between Russia and Britain. It didn't. The reason is that to a Communist a constitutional Socialist is anathema. The Communist understands the Conservative, or the Liberal; looks upon him as somebody holding on to something he's got. He can't understand the Socialist, whom he regards as somebody who knows better but lacks the courage of his convictions, and who therefore is a traitor to the light. That is why all over Europe today, Socialists and Socialist governments find themselves damned and attacked by the Communists.

WHAT PRICE
PRICES...

Everybody is talking about prices these days; the high cost of living; the race between wages and prices

Where is it going to stop? they ask.

Many blame management for not holding the price of an article steady while wages and material costs spiral upwards.

Actually, it is the goal of intelligent management to sell at prices that are low—that more and more people can afford. At the same time, manufacturers are striving to improve quality and techniques.

That has been the history of industry in democratic nations throughout the world.

For instance, the things which we accept as commonplace, such as radios, electric appliances, automobiles and high quality clothing, used to be luxury items

Only in a nation such as ours where the Opportunity System exists can such benefits be passed along to the buyer, but always prices must be such that they will attract customers.

Lowest prices consistent with sound management is the goal of industry.

These views are presented in this newspaper by the British Columbia Federation of Trade and Industry.

Service Personnel
Asked To Apply For
2 War Medal Awards

The Department of National Defence in Ottawa has announced qualifications for eligibility for the Naval General Service Medal (1915) and the General Service Medal (army and air force) to personnel of the three services in certain operational capacities, on specified areas, subsequent to the general cessation of hostilities on Sept. 2, 1945.

Only a small number of Canadian servicemen will be eligible. They are not new medals, being established during the First World War.

QUALIFICATIONS LISTED

In the case of naval personnel, the medal will be awarded in recognition of active service in Java and Sumatra from Sept. 3, 1943, to Nov. 30, 1946, and in French Indo-China from Sept. 3, 1943, to Jan. 28, 1946. It will also be awarded to those engaged in minesweeping service at sea since Sept. 3, 1945, over a period of not less than six months, and to those officers and men actively engaged in bomb and mine clearance ashore since May 9, 1945, in England, Scotland, Wales or northern Ireland. Here again the qualifying period of not less than six months such service is a requisite.

Army and air force personnel will qualify for the General Service Medal (army and air force) if they served in Java or Sumatra, between Sept. 3, 1945, and Nov. 30, 1946, or in French Indo-China between Sept. 3, 1945, to Jan. 28, 1946. They will also qualify if they were actively engaged in bomb and mine clearance in the British Isles for a period of six months after V-E Day, i.e., May 9, 1945.

Air force personnel employed on aircrew duties with units engaged in transporting internees and prisoners-of-war by air from southeast Asia to Singapore or other ports for onward transit, between Sept. 3, 1945, and Oct. 4, 1945, will also qualify for this medal, providing they fulfil the requirement of having completed one flight within the period stated.

Discharged personnel of all services who consider they qualify for either of these awards should communicate direct with the director of War Service Records, Department of Veterans' Affairs, Ottawa, Ontario — and giving all possible information in regard to eligibility.

Bride Ship Sails To Little Theatre

The light opera, "The Bride Ship," written and produced by Madame W. L. Fahey, who has long been recognized as one of Canada's outstanding musicians, will be shown for three nights, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 28, 29, 30, at Victoria Little Theatre. Tickets for all three nights may be purchased at the Marjorie Library. It deals with the arrival in Victoria, after a hazardous and long journey from the Old Land, of the Bride Ship, skippered by Capt. Adrian Good. She carries a valuable cargo of young ladies who will entertain with song and dance for three evenings.

Among the hopeful brides-to-be is Lady Mary Barnister, who comes here to marry her cousin. There is a charming French demoiselle, a brw Scottish lassie, an Irish wench, a singing gwenid from Wales and little girls still in short skirts and pantelettes. Also a beautiful figurante fresh from the ballet of old Vienna, who will give interpretive dances, and a whole galaxy of lovelies, all in the latest modes of 1862, who will gladden the eyes of natives of this far off land.

Retrial Ordered In Property Case

Because a judgment was founded on the credibility and demeanor of a witness, the Appeal Court Wednesday ordered a retrial in the case of Charles Richard Williams, 93, whose appeal against a judgment rendered by Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris in Vancouver.

At the trial, Williams said he signed over to Mrs. Hansie Dohnal, defendant, a six-acre farm on Lulu Island. He sought to regain the property, claiming that he had been induced to part with the land through misrepresentation.

In rendering judgment, the trial judge pointed out that the plaintiff had claimed he had been left "without a penny-piece" as the result of the transactions between himself and the defendant, but further evidence showed that Williams owned stocks and bonds valued between $6,000, and $8,000.

I can help most pile sufferers. I believe I can help you, too. If you want relief from the itching soreness and burning pain of piles.

Hem-Roid formula is different. Hem-Roid is an internal treatment, a small tablet taken with a glass of water. It helps relieve some of the conditions inside your body that cause you such intense pile soreness and pain.

But I'll be honest with you—there are some cases where Hem-Roid does not seem to help very much. I refuse to ask people to pay for something that does not help them. If Hem-Roid helps YOU surely it is worth the small cost. If it does not help you I want you to have your money back. I will take your word. I find people are honest about such things.

Simply go to any drug store and get a package of Hem-Roid. Use it as directed for 10 days. Then if you are not satisfied return what you did not use and get your money back. This is an unusual offer but Hem-Roid has been sold on a refund promise for over 40 years. I am not asked to make many refunds so Hem-Roid must help most people who use it.

Hem-Roid now costs you a penny if it does not help you.

Fishermen Here Aiding Strikers

Members of the United Fishermen's and Allied Workers' Union, A.F. of L., are aiding members of the International Woodworkers of America, C.I.O., who have been on strike for seven weeks at the Pacific Furniture Manufacturing Co., Esquimalt, Elgin Neish, president of the U.F.A.W.U., reported today.

The fishermen, in response to an I.W.A. appeal, are now providing pickets with free frozen fish, Mr. Neish said.

Nancy Hodges, Liberal Women's New Head, Urges All Share In Political Decisions

OTTAWA (CP)—The National Federation of Liberal Women wants retirement insurance for all Canadians, better old age pensions for women, a better deal for domestics and government action to invoke an "equal pay for equal work" rule for the Dominion's feminine workers.

Those and a number of other resolutions went on the record Wednesday at the closing session of the three-day N.F.L.W. convention, first since 1938, which heard newly-elected president Nancy Hodges of Victoria warn against feminine apathy and indifference in Canada's affairs.

Warns against apathy ... MRS. HODGES

Member of the British Columbia Legislature and well-known newspaper woman, Mrs. Hodges had been elected to succeed Senator Cairine Wilson, who had held the presidency since 1938.

Addressing the closing banquet, she warned that in the face of the most crucial political period in the world's history, it was imperative that women awaken to the full implication of their responsibilities.

FEW MEMBERS

The presence of only one woman in the federal House of 245 members, of only two in the Senate's 96 seats and of only seven in the nine provincial legislatures, reflected "the apathy and indifference" of woman voters.

The speaker said the women of Canada certainly hadn't used the vote as they should have done. Governments were like homes—they needed both men and women to run them successfully.

"... That's one thing we can never overlook—the C.C.F. works 24 hours a day instead of waiting until the eve of an election," she said.

FOOD PROBLEMS

Mrs. Hodges deplored the tendency to overemphasize temporary food shortages, no matter what the cause. Canadians might better remember the plight of starving millions in other parts of the world.

At the same time, however, she urged women to set their faces against any sign of the return of the reprehensible economic practices which led to grain being fed to pigs or foodstuffs destroyed at a time when children the world over were suffering from malnutrition.

Mrs. Hodges combined a 26-year newspaper career with politics six years ago when she was elected to the British Columbia Legislature. Only other woman member in the province is Mrs. T. J. Rolston of Vancouver, a Progressive Conservative.

Active in B.C. women's clubs for years, Mrs. Hodges gives that, rather than journalism, as the reason for her entry into political life. At present she is columnist for the Victoria Daily Times, of which her husband is editor-in-chief.

SAYS HE HAS HOPES

The convention heard Prime Minister King good-naturedly twitted about his own bachelorhood, much to the delight of the 250 women delegates. Now that Veterans' Minister Ian Mackenzie had "plunged into the matrimonial lake" he was the lone bachelor left in the cabinet. But the Prime Minister made it clear he "still has hopes."

On the serious side Mr. King commended the N.F.L.W. on the great job it has done—and will do—for the Liberal Party.

Besides Mrs. Hodges, others elected to the national executive are: Mrs. W. F. O'Regan, Ottawa, vice-president; Mrs. G. R. Rowe, Brandon, Man., English-speaking secretary; Mrs. H. Lapointe, Quebec City, French-speaking secretary; Mrs. C. E. Embree, Halifax, treasurer.

It was stated that provincial representatives elected would be announced later.

Pilchard Season Complete Failure

British Columbia's 1947 pilchard fishery has been a complete failure, George J. Alexander, deputy fisheries minister for B.C., reported today.

Why the pilchards this year did not come north into British Columbia waters is a mystery held by the sea. It is reported that California pilchard fishermen likewise have had a poor year.

While fisheries experts are not sure why the pilchards, which sometimes come into B.C. waters in great numbers, this year did not come, it is believed that adequate supplies of feed elsewhere may have kept the schools away.

Sometimes the Dominion government has used aircraft in an effort to locate pilchard schools.

Canada Watches Trade Trend As International Talks Proceed

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Of all countries, it has been said, Canada most needs a free-trading world to maintain her prosperity.

This is because she produces in abundance things she consumes only in part herself and which she must sell to others, particularly the products of her farms, forests, mines and fisheries. She, in turn, needs things which she can't produce herself, or produces in an expensive way.

The results of present international talks are therefore important to her.

Will the Marshall plan allow Europe to use United States dollars to buy from Canada? Will Britain get added United States dollars with which to do the same? Will the Geneva talks of 17 trading countries, including Canada, make substantial progress in making trading easier?

It is important to Canada that Europe and Britain get United States dollars with which to pay her, because Canada in effect sells overseas and buys from the United States. This is her traditional trading policy which has worked out well in the past, though it would now seem in line for some modification.

The background is that the world's producing plant, except for the Americas, has been destroyed or damaged by war. Virtually only the Americas, notably the United States and Canada, are producing enough to support themselves and they have a surplus. The world needs this surplus but for the moment at least can't pay for it, and it is a matter of working out how the surplus countries can supply the rest of the world without ruining themselves.

The tradition of trading nations has been to make it possible for their markets to buy, on the principle that they will get it back in the long run in general prosperity. The United States and Canada are trying to do this, though with strain to their resources.

Rarely has a perilous situation been so discussed, examined, assessed and appreciated, and this is one of the most hopeful factors.

It is probable, for instance, that the Geneva trade conferences would long ago have broken up in failure, if it were not for the sheer pressure of necessity wherein countries realize they must make compromises and even sacrifices to gain larger ends.

NO SUDDEN SOLUTION
Solutions are not being sought in only one basket. While international meetings go on, nations are working out here and there other deals to keep the wheels turning. Britain, for instance, hard-pressed for dollars and gold, is arranging a loan of $320,000,000 in gold from South Africa under conditions which are presumably mutually agreeable.

Certain trading men refuse to believe trading must stop because there is temporary inability to pay, and are working

Rita Joan Gibson Married In Evening Rites At Cathedral

Cathedral bells rang last night for a wedding ceremony in which Canon Michael Coleman heard marriage vows of Rita Joan, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Gibson, 1260 Victoria Avenue, and Eastman George Magee, son of Mrs. J. Magee of Calgary.

The bride was a striking picture as they came down the aisle to the strains of traditional wedding music. Crisp white velvet in the attendants' gowns made a vivid contrast to the heavy white satin worn by the bride. Her gown was fashioned with a full skirt featuring tiny pleats and extending into a slight train. The long fitted bodice with self-covered buttons down the back had an inset of soft lace in front. On her shoulder was a spray of orange blossoms. A long veil embroidered with silk was fastened to a halo headpiece of brilliants and seed pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses and white carnations, with streamers knotted with red roses.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Attendants, Mrs. Leslie Clarke, as matron of honor, and Miss Winnifred Fletcher, bridesmaid, wore crownless Mary Stuart hats matching the crimson velvet of their period-styled gowns.

Four-year-old Heather Currie was flower girl in an old-fashioned gown of old gold moire, poke bonnet of the same material, and carrying a tiny matching muff topped with a bouquet of red carnations.

Leslie Clarke acted as best man and ushers were John Currie and Jack Fletcher.

Following the service a reception was held at the Kit Kat Banquet Club, where Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Arthur Clarke, an old friend of the family, received guests.

The bridal table was centred with a four-tier wedding cake, flanked by pink carnations in silver vases and white candles in silver candelabras. D. M. Murray proposed a toast to the bride. Vocal solos given by Miss Peggy Butterfield were "I'll Walk Beside You" and "O Perfect Love."

Mr. and Mrs. Magee left last night for Calgary, where they will reside.

For travelling the bride wore a tailored burgundy suit with matching accessories and grey topcoat, and corsage bouquet of talisman roses.

Women Canvassers In Chest Campaign

Unsung heroines of the current Community Chest campaign to raise $130,000 for the 19 "Red Feather" agencies whose work for the coming year will be financed by the funds, are the 200 lady canvassers who gamely trudge from door to door on the residential canvass.

Most of them are busy women with families to care for and active in other organizations, many in Community Chest agencies. However, they find time to take on extra hours of work entailed in the collecting work.

Mrs. A. H. Cox, a member of the Community Chest board, is head of the women's division of the residential canvass this year. She is aided by Dr. Olga Jardine, Y.W.C.A., and Mrs. Harold Bate of the Victorian Order of Nurses, as vice-president.

For the past three weeks these three ladies have given practically full time to the organization of the canvassers at Community Chest headquarters at Prince Robert House. All work done by them is on a voluntary basis.

More canvassers are still needed in certain neighborhoods. Mrs. Cox said, if the load is not to be too heavy for the few willing workers. Particularly in the Burnside-Gorge district, Lake Hill, Cedar Hill and Royal Oak are more canvassers needed. Wherever possible, she said, the ladies canvass in their own neighborhoods.

Many women's organizations have thrown their entire membership into the campaign. Notable among these are the Y.W.C.A., the Family Welfare, the Recreation Council, Victorian Order of Nurses, women workers for the Boy Scouts, the Women's Auxiliary of the C.N.I.B., St. Vincent de Paul Auxiliary, and the Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Native Daughters of B.C. social planned for tonight at home of Mrs. E. Corbett, Deal Street, postponed.

Victoria Women Tell Club Of Experiences In Europe

Three Victoria women, recently returned from England and Europe, all agreed on one point when speaking to members of the University Women's Club, Wednesday evening at Lincoln Manor.

Miss Hattie Staghall, Mme. L. G. d'Estrube, and Dr. Irene Clearhugh, spoke of the courtesy and good will shown by peoples of England, who had suffered and were still living under tremendous difficulties.

Dr. Clearhugh also said she did not find anywhere the apathetic attitude and bitterness sometimes reported.

NO TOWELS

She spoke of hardships and inconveniences from the visitor's point of view, saying hotel reservations must be made long in advance, but hotels were fairly comfortable. "Though they do not supply towels," she added, "and we found we couldn't buy any, as we had no clothes ration coupons."

Food ration coupons are inadequate, she said, and since new restrictions must be surrendered for restaurant meals as well.

Food parcels from Canadians are eagerly welcomed.

Miss Staghall, who was in England for a year, told of terrible war damages, but cited the ingenuity and spirit of the British. "Why, they have a museum of war trophies, right in the middle of the ruins," she said.

Next to the courtesy of the people, Miss Staghall said she was most impressed with the air of age and permanence throughout the country.

Mme. d'Estrube, who passed through England en route to France, found the French people "worn out after three wars," and emphasized her conviction that "the future of France rests with her youth."

She answered questions from the audience about inflation, the elections, and communications, which she said were excellent.

Three flags, a Union Jack and two American flags, made by French women were displayed by Mme. d'Estrube, as symbols, "of strong ties between France and the English speaking countries."

During the short business meeting with Mrs. J. W. Price in the chair, it was announced that an international day would be held here this year instead of the regional conference, with Victoria club as hostesses to members from British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho.

A convener was appointed to summarize important U.N. events and report to each meeting.

The University Women's Club scholarship will be presented Saturday evening at the College Assembly to Miss Kathleen McEwen, who is studying for her honors degree in music.

Illustrated Lecture—Following the regular meeting of the Zetetes Business and Professional Women's Club, Miss Joyce Whitehead, president, introduced the guest speaker, W. R. Foster, M.Sc., whose subject was "You and Heredity." Miss Frances Paterson thanked the speaker on behalf of the club. There will be an initiation of new members at the next meeting, Nov. 6, in the clubrooms.

Skit Given—A skit in pantomime was given at the Games Night, sponsored by Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute, in Sooke Community Hall. Those taking part were Mesdames H. Wadams, J. F. Kennedy, R. Piercey, G. A. Acreman, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Helgesen, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Conder, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. deRoche, Messrs. Donald Morrison, James Martin, Stanley Cairns and Samuel Federsenko. Mrs.

Donald Morrison was accompanist. The president, Mrs. G. A. Acreman, welcomed guests and R. G. Gibson acted as master of ceremonies for the one-hour variety concert.

New Logging Camp At Sarita River To Employ 250 Men

PORT ALBERNI—A new logging camp to house 50 families and employ about 250 men is being built by Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Co. Ltd. at Sarita River, near Bamfield on the Alberni Canal.

Fifty men, using five bulldozers, are presently preparing ground for the camp, which will operate as soon as conditions allow. About 50 miles of roads will be necessary for the operations.

First Pulp Cargo For U.K. From Port Alberni Mill

PORT ALBERNI—The first shipment of pulp manufactured at the Bloedel, Stewart and Welch Co. Ltd. pulpmill left here Tuesday consigned to the United Kingdom paper controller. Shipment was made via the S.S. Seaboard Trader, under Capt. J. Lang.

The 1,000 tons of pulp shipped has accumulated at the plant since trial runs began Aug. 9. The unbleached Kraft pulp will be remanufactured in the U.K. to help relieve the critical paper shortage there, it is reported.

With power expected shortly from Canadian Collieries at Puntledge River, pulp mill officials report the plant will shortly begin full-scale production. At present the plant employs 27 workers in the office, 70 in operations, 25 on maintenance and 25 on wood storage. Additions are expected to be made to the operations staff.

Kinsmen Sponsor Parkville Shell-Out

PARKVILLE—Kinsmen Club executive under George Wilson, president, is sponsoring the Halloween Shell-Out with school children distributing circulars to householders before the canvass which starts next week-end.

Concluding the Shell-Out will be parties at schools and halls throughout the district, Oct. 31. Kinsmen will have two shows visiting the different parties throughout the evening.

Next Kinsmen meeting will be at Green Briers, Oct. 29, when Mr. Wilson will report on the district council meetings which he attended at Hotel Vancouver last week-end.

Survey On Postal Delivery To Be Made

PORT ALBERNI—A further survey of Port Alberni is to be made in regard to postal delivery, council learned Monday.

Information on the plan came by letter from L. Germain of the federal postal department, and from Mr. A. Edge of the inspector's branch at Vancouver, who appeared at council with E. L. Hammer, Port Alberni postmaster.

Mr. Edge asked council for full support during the survey, and Mr. Hammer outlined the crowded condition of the post office which, he said, makes postal delivery necessary.

Mr. Hammer claimed space at the post office is inadequate and that "doubling up" of several persons' mail in one box makes sorting difficult.

It was pointed out that the present building was constructed in 1913 for a population of 750, while today the same post office services about 8,000 people.

Trade Board Urges School At Parkville

PARKVILLE—Board of Trade has written to the Minister of Education pressing for building of the proposed consolidated school at Parkville rather than Qualicum Beach.

Reasons why the Board of Trade considers the school should be in the southern part of School District No. 69 follow:

1. Southern section of the district of which Parkville is the largest community has in Grades one to five 78 per cent of the school population.

2. Present high school attendance is divided between 66 per cent for the southern area and 34 per cent for the northern part.

3. Should the school be built at Qualicum greater transportation expenses would be incurred in transporting pupils by school bus.

The Board of Trade estimates that operating costs of the school would be reduced 50 per cent if the building were at Parkville thus lightening the burden of taxpayers already protesting increases in the school levy.

4. Businessmen consider the marked increase in Parkville industrial activity will continue. Logging resources which have given the village a boom in recent years have an estimated life of at least 25 years.

5. Only community far from the Parkville site would be Deep Bay at the northern end of school district which has Nanosee for its southern tip. Population of Deep Bay is small and has changed little in recent years.

R. H. Abbott Heads Arrowsmith Legion

PARKVILLE—Mount Arrowsmith Branch, Canadian Legion, has chosen R. H. Abbott as president succeeding Cmdr. W. S. E. Morrison.

Other officers elected include W. Gamble, first vice-president; F. H. McLaughlin, second vice-president; D. Maxwell, secretary-treasurer; T. Tryon, sergeant-at-arms; C. Lettler, auditor.

J. D. McNeil, F. Foote and Ray Arnold form the new executive committee. Members of the entertainment committee are A. A. Dunbar, F. Foote, T. Tryon, J. Booth, T. Tryon, A. Rheumer, J. Robertson.

J. Britton is chairman of the building committee which has abandoned plans to put up a theatre for Parkville. Taking the place of the theatre project are plans for small hall and club-room to be built on the legion property opposite the present post office. Lumber for the structure will come from the old Masonic building with Legion members holding a bee next Sunday to dismantle this building.

Members of the entertainment committee are now working on plans for the annual masquerade at the Errington Memorial Hall, Nov. 11.

Arrangements are also under way for the veterans' parade and ceremony at the Cenotaph on the morning of Remembrance Day.

Snapshot Contest By Malahat Board

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—Keen interest is being shown in this Island centre on the Malahat, Board of Trade's amateur snapshot competition, which will close Oct. 31.

Open to all, the competition is designed to obtain pictures of Shawnigan Lake and vicinity for the purpose of advertising the district.

Action pictures, fishing, hunting, boating and local scenes of interest to tourists are especially desired. There is no entry fee and each competitor may enter as many snaps as he or she wishes. Entries will be judged under the headings of adults, children under 18 and children under 14. Entries must be marked with location, date and group entered. Entries may be left at any local stores or mailed direct to the Malahat Board of Trade.

School Meetings At Up-Island Points

PARKVILLE—Annual school meetings for ratepayers in the district started Monday night at Hilliers with a meeting Tuesday night at Montrose School and Wednesday at French Creek School.

Other school meetings will be at Parkville in the Parish Hall, Friday; Errington, Monday, and Qualicum Beach, next Wednesday.

James Graham, school board secretary, said today that T. B. McArravy, Nanaimo architect, had been engaged to plan remodeling of the huts acquired from Nanaimo army camp to increase school accommodation at Qualicum Beach, Parkville and Horne Lake. It is hoped to have the buildings completed by Christmas.

Parkville Board Talks Of Power Failures

PARKVILLE—Recent power failures which have brought protests from resort owners and householders were discussed by the Board of Trade meeting.

A letter was received from the B.C. Power Commission in reply to a suggestion from the board that the auxiliary plant at Qualicum Beach be used during breakdowns on the main line. The commission told the board that the Qualicum plant is not large enough to stand the load for the entire district.

From K. W. Morton, federal district engineer of Public Works at New Westminster, came a letter asking clarification of certain points concerning building of a government wharf for which the Parkville board has been pressing in recent months. R. W. Primmer was appointed to obtain figures requested by Mr. Morton concerning population and industries to be affected by the proposed wharf and type and volume of traffic it would serve.

C. S. Johnson, Parkville Board of Trade president, was chosen as delegate to the meeting of the executive council of Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island at Nanaimo, Oct. 29.

Increased Accidents Near Parkville, Police Report Shows

PARKVILLE—A marked increase in auto accidents has been noted in reports from Provincial Police.

More than $500 damage was done to a new Plymouth sedan driven by G. M. Sproat of Sproat Lake when the car overturned on the Alberni Highway at the railway crossing near Parkville. Mr. Sproat escaped with a few scratches.

Also escaping serious injury was Earl McDonald of 624-11th Avenue East, Vancouver, when according to a report from police he failed to take the detour at Nanosee Creek and crashed into the concrete bridge under construction. His Model-T Ford was a total loss.

Damage estimated at more than $500 was done to a late model Chevrolet sedan driven by T. Tryon when the car overturned on the Island Highway at Church Road near Parkville. Mr. Tryon who was uninjured told police the car skidded in loose gravel at the side of the road.

Hon. Paul Martin, K.C., Secretary of State, will address the Laurier Club of Victoria at a dinner meeting Oct. 31 at the Douglas Hotel at 6.15.

Police Union Seeks Pay Boost To Meet Living-Cost Rise

A delegation of three officers of the Victoria City Police Union, Local No. 251 (A.F.L.), attended the meeting of the board of police commissioners Wednesday afternoon to make application for an increase in wages in view of the ever-rising cost of living, but went away with little likelihood of their desire being met until after the end of the year.

Napoleon Bouchard, president, secretary John Lund and Alex. Briggs appeared on behalf of the union and asked for a $15-a-month raise for all members of the department.

The commission was in total agreement that under the terms of the agreement the union was justified to appear before it to seek an increase in wages, but owing to the city's finances at the 10th month of the year being overexpended, the situation looked impossible at the present time.

Under Clause 12 of the agreement the union could apply, for an increase if the living cost rose five points above the previously announced level when the agreement was signed. Likewise the agreement provides for negotiations for a downward scaling of wages should the cost of living drop five points since signatures were applied to the document.

10-POINT INDEX RISE

President Bouchard pointed to where the cost of living index—as officially reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics—had risen more than 10 points from the time the agreement was signed in February, from 126.3 to 138.3 in September. The October index was expected to read about four more points, he added, noting this was from information received.

Mr. Bouchard pointed out that the union could have made the application as early as last May, but had held off action "until now it has become a matter of 'must' for us in order to make both ends meet."

Mayor Percy George, who said the ever rising cost to live was enough to disturb anyone, expressed the view the commission appreciated the wait on the part of the union in this matter and promised that in the case of the cost of living dropping to where salaries would be cut the commission would give it close consideration and not rush things.

Commissioner B. J. Gadsden wanted to know if Mr. Bouchard could give a dollar and cents value to a one-point rise in the cost of living—so that a clearer picture would be arrived at for asking for the $15 raise.

The local president had been unable to get such figures. The best he was able to show was that $1 today had the purchasing power of 61.34 cents in prewar days. "In other words we can buy less with today's salary than with our salary before the war, which was much smaller."

A letter to be sent to the local will read to the effect that the commissioners being members of the council—and knowing the

Mayor Scores Gadsden's 'Veto' Stand On Police Appointment; Ostler Withdraws

Because of his stubbornness in placing an obstacle in the way to hold up the appointment of a deputy police chief and for "kindergarten questions" asked about the monthly sick list of the force, Commissioner B. J. Gadsden was the target for a verbal lashing by Mayor Percy George at the Victoria Police Commission meeting Wednesday afternoon.

Due to Mr. Gadsden's "veto" as the mayor put it—the police governing body came out of the meeting still no closer to naming a candidate for the deputy chief post than it was a month ago when Chief of Police John A. McLellan recommended one be appointed—and named William Ostler, J.P., clerk of the court, as his choice for the position.

The meeting yesterday was forced to table the matter for one month when a settlement will again be attempted. When Chief McLellan made the suggestion at the last meeting Mr. Gadsden immediately moved the matter be adjourned for decision for one month to give the commission opportunity to study the question "more fully."

Mayor George and Commissioner D. D. McTavish voiced themselves in favor of Mr. Ostler for the post.

As soon as the subject was broached again yesterday, Mr. Gadsden moved the matter be left in abeyance until the next meeting.

At this point Mr. Ostler, also commission clerk, got permission to interject a few words. He said he had given the matter considerable thought during the last month and asked that his name be withdrawn owing to the fact his selection had not been unanimous.

Both the mayor and Commissioner McTavish spoke their regret at hearing Mr. Ostler's request. Both spoke of him as being a fine choice. The chief had done a great deal of screening to find a man whom he thought would fit in the deputy's seat, get to know the machinery of the department and be ready to step into his shoes on retirement in 1948.

While Mr. Gadsden continued to oppose the candidate proposed, he made no move to offer an alternative, gave no reply to the mayor's question if he would have a name to submit at the next meeting.

Speaking directly at the opposer, Mayor George said, "I openly accuse you, Mr. Commissioner, of tearing things down and then not offering another solution."

The city's chief magistrate said the public would be thinking "we are screwy and inefficient" for tactics of this kind.

The mayor labeled Commissioner Gadsden's stand as a "veto," adding that while a stand of that calibre might be all right in Russia, "I don't see why you should repeatedly veto our plans and then do nothing about it."

He noted that the chief was thinking in the future, paving the way for a capable man to move in to learn the ropes and take over where he leaves off. The way things are going now, the failure to come to agreement, was a detriment to the police force of the future.

MAYOR-McTAVISH REGRET MOVE

Both the mayor and Commissioner McTavish spoke their regret at hearing Mr. Ostler's request. Both spoke of him as being a fine choice. The chief had done a great deal of screening to find a man whom he thought would fit in the deputy's seat, get to know the machinery of the department and be ready to step into his shoes on retirement in 1948.

While Mr. Gadsden continued to oppose the candidate proposed, he made no move to offer an alternative, gave no reply to the mayor's question if he would

THINKS OSTLER'S ACTION WISE

Mr. Gadsden said that he respected Mr. Ostler, but in defence of his stand considered the court stenographer's decision to withdraw "very wise." He saw Mr. Ostler as a person who was good in his own avocation and if he left it would be a great loss to his profession.

The opposer said he would not consider Mr. Ostler because he had no practical experience in police work. However, both the mayor and Mr. McTavish considered the candidate one who could easily adapt himself to the new position and be ready to take over from Chief McLellan.

"If the chief's advice does not conform with my feelings I don't have to fall in line and be used like a rubber stamp," said Mr. Gadsden. Mayor George took exception to the "rubber stamp" statement, noting that the chief was in a far better position than the members of the commission to judge who would be capable of doing the deputy chief's job best.

'QUIBBLY THINGS'

Shortly after when the chief's monthly report was submitted showing men who had been on the sick list and Mr. Gadsden sought details of what sickness the individuals had suffered on these occasions, Mayor George strongly objected to his "making a fetish of little details."

While Mr. Gadsden figured he had a right to know such things, the mayor, supported again by Mr. McTavish considered a meeting no place to seek such answers.

"You don't hear any questions on such quibbly things in the City Council or fire wardens' meetings... they are just kindergarten questions that are a waste of our time," said Mayor George.

"Also," he added "if the chief is satisfied these men were sick that is all right with me." He considered it a matter of faith in the leaders of the department. Besides, he said, the commissioner could get such answers from the chief personally if he wanted them and not take up meeting's time with it.

"I think it is my business to get a little information on behalf of the public," said Mr. Gadsden, to which the chief magistrate retorted that his fellow commissioners considered everything his business "and personally I don't think it should be made public if a man is suffering from a toothache or a toeache."

Spirited Cage Action

Five players of K.V.'s and Y.M.C.A. cage quintettes vie for a rebound in the opening senior A hoop game of the season at the High School gym last night. Although only four players can be seen, there are nine arms and nine legs in the picture. Puzzle is to find the fifth man. Bob McKay (9) of K.V.'s can be seen at the extreme left with Don Woodhouse (8) of Y.M.C.A. in the foreground. That one long arm appears to belong to Ralph Baxter of K.V.'s, while the short K.V. player in the middle of the scramble is Angus Stewart. K.V.'s won the contest 49 to 47.

Y.M.C.A. To Open Winter Series Of Galas Saturday

The first of the ever-popular winter series of swimming galas for the 1947-48 season will take place at the Crystal Garden Saturday at 7.45 with the Flying "Y" squad, under direction of coach Archie McKinnon, meeting the Washington Athletic Club team. Coached by Ray Daughters, the visitors will bring over a well-balanced squad of splash artists including Carlyn Daughters, rated as a possible U.S. Olympic representative.

Miss Daughters has been swimming well lately and her times in practice sessions are near those of the present Canadian record. A specialist in the backstroke events Miss Daughters will attempt to lower existing Canadian marks.

Other fair sex members of the visiting squad include Lois Scott, Pat Fair, Karen Gordon and Lou Towers.

Dick Elliot, promising junior ace of the Washington club, Dick Newton, Jimmy Joy and Jim English will round out the men's section of the squad.

Line-up of the local water experts will differ but slightly from that of last year. Main exception, of course, will be the absence of Peter Salmon. Salmon is unable to compete for the locals due to a University of Washington ruling prohibiting outside appearances.

Ina Salmon, however, will be on hand to add strength to the Y.M.C.A.'s cause.

The men's team includes Eric Jubb, Dick Bowden, Ron Neilson, Gordy Lawrence, Jack Morgan, Len Coverdale, Lorne Bowden, Harold Harris and Bruce Baird.

For feminine performers McKinnon has such capable competitors as Aileen Smythe, Nita Anderson, Jean Mills, Leslie Rimmer, Jerry Long and Joan Morgan.

One of the features of the gala will undoubtedly be the appearance of Al Patnik, renowned springboard ace and former holder of the world's diving championship.

Walter Newcombe and Wally Bowden will play Bill McColl and Vic Painter for the city golf buttons at the Colwood course Sunday at 1.30. McColl and Painter captured the button last week-end, ending the long reign of Ted Colgate and Laurie Kerr.

Dick Elliot, promising junior ace of the Washington club, Dick Newton, Jimmy Joy and Jim English will round out the men's section of the squad.

House-Cleaning Will End Ball Careers For Veterans

NEW YORK (AP)—Old age has crept up on so many major league clubs that baseball is getting set for its most thorough house-cleaning job in years. Much of the over-age talent is slated for the scrap heap before the 16 clubs start spring training March 1.

Despite the success of such oldsters as Hugh Casey and Cookie Lavagetto in the world series, baseball is leaning more heavily each year on younger men.

The "youth movement" definitely is in full swing in Brooklyn, Cincinnati and Philadelphia. Chicago White Sox, last of the "stand-pat" crowd, also are undergoing changes that will shake out most of the dead wood.

Since the end of the season, the White Sox have released Lefty Thornton Lee, the cunning south-

Jack West May Be Given Pink Slip As Winnipeg Coach

WINNIPEG (CP)—Inspired probably by the three straight defeats suffered by Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Western Interprovincial Football League, rumors were current today that Coach Jack West of the Bombers would not be rehired next year regardless how the team finishes.

All West himself would say was "it may be true and it may not." The grey-haired mentor from North Dakota, now in his second year here as coach, and who has been in for a lot of criticism, said "I have done my best and only for injuries we would have the western conference sewed up today. I am not quitting. If the Winnipeg club feels I have not produced, that's up to the members to do as they see fit."

If backfielders Bob Sandberg, Don Hiney and John Reagan, all suffering injuries, and other players with minor injuries were in tiptop shape "there would be nothing to it," West said.

Walter Newcombe and Wally Bowden will play Bill McColl and Vic Painter for the city golf buttons at the Colwood course Sunday at 1.30. McColl and Painter captured the button last week-end, ending the long reign of Ted Colgate and Laurie Kerr.

Dick Elliot, promising junior ace of the Washington club, Dick Newton, Jimmy Joy and Jim English will round out the men's section of the squad.

K.V.'s In Thrilling Cage Triumph Over 'Y'

If there are many more senior A hoop games akin to the one that K.V.'s and the Y.M.C.A. dished up in the opening contest of the season last night, cage officials will need a shoehorn to accommodate the faithful in the High School gymnasium.

In a torrid midseason display of court lore and hoopla magic, the two teams battled tooth and nail over the entire distance with the outcome in doubt until two seconds after the final whistle, and when it was all over K.V.'s had won the slim 49 to 47 decision on the strength of a tremendous long shot from the hands of Duff McCaghey with just 14 seconds left to play.

From the time Mayor George tossed up the first ball, after first paying tribute to hoop officials, players and the fandom, until Vic Dale's left-handed shot at the final whistle rimmed the hoop and fell out, the game was terrific.

GREAT RALLY

In winning the opening game of the schedule K.V.'s came through like a championship squad. Trailing 46 to 39 with but five minutes left, the Turner speedsters poured the attack to the association squad, finally catching the veteran club with three successive foul shots by Fred Ranson, a basket by Ralph Baxter and a howitzer by McCaghey, at the 38-minute mark.

Busher Jackson then gave the "Y" a one-point lead when he dunked his gift toss only to see Ranson make good on a similar effort seconds later to nullify that margin. From then until McCaghey floated through his 35-footer the teams battled furiously, many shots ringing the hoop but failing to fall. Johnny Clarke, Rookie Wright and Dale all came close in the dying seconds as the "Y" rained shots on K.V.'s citadel.

Making good on their free shots to the tune of seven out of 12 while K.V.'s could only garner two of eight attempts, the Y.M.C.A. enjoyed a 25 to 22 margin at the half. Score at the quarter mark was 14 to 11 for the "Y."

JACKSON SPARKS

Busher Jackson was the spark that ignited the fire in the Y.M.C.A. club in the second half as they maintained their three-point margin through the third quarter when the score stood at 38 to 35 for the losers. Dale's two baskets at the start of the final frame pushed the "Y" further ahead until mayhem in the persons of Ranson and McCaghey broke loose in the final five minutes to snatch the sweet victory out of the fire.

Jackson paced the scorers with 16 points followed by Baxter for K.V.'s with 13, and Anderson and McCaghey of the winners with 11.

ALCOS TRIUMPH

In the preliminary game Alcos took the measure of Eagles, 31 to 23, in an intermediate A tussle.

Winners led 10 to 3 at the first quarter and 17 to 11 at the half. Eagles outscored Alcos by a lone point in the third period to trail 25 to 20. Winners came back to salt the tilt away in the final quarter.

Howie Slang with 15 points and Don Hall with 12 topped the pointmakers.

Teams and scorers follow: Y.M.C.A.—Jackson 16, Wright 6, Clarke 2, Dale 6, Goldsmith 5, Stewart 3, Clark 2, Woodhouse 2. K.V.'s—Baxter 13, Hamilton 11, Ranson 4, McCaghey 11, Anderson 11, Ranson 4, Stewart 2, Castner 2. Alcos—Hall 12, Clarkson 3, French 8, Singh 2, Ireland 1, Killa 2, Booth 4, Scales-Browning 1, Tooby 2, Anderson, Ranson, Singh 18, Long 3, Pace 2, McMillen.

Robinson's, Arrows Tied For Lead In Table Tennis League

Robinson's Grocery and Arrow Furniture moved into first place in the Victoria Table Tennis League this week by chalking up league wins over Paddlers and Cardinals, respectively.

The grocers took the measure of the Paddlers, 25 to 11, and Arrows edged Cardinals, 19 to 17. In other games Pirates defeated Giants, 20 to 16, and MacDonalds measured Foul Bay, 20 to 16.

D. Lowe of Pirates, Will Browne-Cave of MacDonalds, Ruth Payne of Foul Bay, Art Nag of Arrows and T. Lowe of Giants each registered seven wins for their squads.

Teams and scorers follow: Pirates—J. Olson 3, H. Campbell 1, P. Clarke 3, D. Lowe 7, doubles 6. Giants—R. Harrison 3, T. Lowe 7, W. Wills 4, R. Henderson 6, doubles 4. MacDonalds—W. By PETE SALLAWAY

WHEN the Canadian champion St. Andrews soccer squad invades Victoria Saturday it will be the first match for the club since Bill Findler gave up the ghost as manager of the eleven. As yet no replacement has been secured for the man who guided the team to the Dominion title and then resigned when his players objected to him offering bonuses to get the signatures of new players. Findler, always known as a fellow who likes to handle a winner, refused to operate under such a set-up and tossed in the sponge.

From what I can learn the Saints will continue to operate their club on a split basis. In other words the players will share and share alike in a division of the "kitty" at the end of the season. They are operating what they term a "social" club. In my books it is a straight semi-pro proposition. Not that I have anything against athletes receiving a cut of the gate receipts but any time the word social creeps into such a proposition it makes me laugh. Don't tell me the boys are trying to protect their amateur standing. Maybe they are worried about the little man from the income tax department.

Anyway it will be interesting to see just how St. Andrews shape up without the benefit of the dynamic Findler to guide them. Whether or not the club will be like a ship without a rudder remains to be seen. Saturday's match is an important one—so important it may determine the first half championship of the league. Should the Saints still be suffering from the shock of Findler's resignation so much the better. To win the United will have to be at its best. The Scots have a great soccer machine and, most important of all, boast a defence that is never going to give up many goals.

When the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association announced its decision to have an R.C.A.F. hockey team represent Canada at the Winter Olympics I wonder if its leaders realized the criticism which would be hurled their way. Sports writers the length and breadth of the Dominion have been taking pot shots at the C.A.H.A. They feel the Canadian body backed down in agreeing to send a team that would qualify as an amateur squad under the definitions as laid down by the Europeans. The C.A.H.A. tried unsuccessfully to have the definition of an amateur broadened to the point where it would tie in with the Canadian version of an amateur hockey performer. Now the scribes feel the C.A.H.A. is planning to send what they term a third-rate club to the Olympics. They are of the opinion it would have been better for this country to have stayed out of the Olympic hockey set-up.

Good Coho Catches

Good fishing is the order again up at Cowichan Bay, where the annual fall coho run is in progress. Among other Victorians who have been up there within the last couple of days was Jack Harris, who reported excellent catches being made on the blue and white bucktail fly.

After more than a week of good catches, the fishing fell off badly over the week-end when the bay waters were extremely muddy from the heavy flow of water coming down the river. It started to pick up again Monday as the waters cleared.

Heaney's juvenile soccer team will hold a practice at Athletic Park tonight at 7.

BADMINTON CLASSES

Brentwood Badminton Club will hold instructional classes for beginners Friday nights at 7.30 at the club's courts, president Rom Knott announced today.

Dominion Soccer Champions Present Formidable Squad

There won't be any Frank Ambler to worry about when United faces St. Andrews here Saturday, as he was here last week, but in his stead will be the talk of the Vancouver and District League last season, Tubby McLean, at the centre-forward position.

McLean played his first game for the Dominion soccer champions at Nanaimo last week and is expected to surprise local soccer followers when he appears here.

Nick Glover will be making his first start since he was injured in the Canadian final and will be flanked on the half-line by Wes Henderson and Jack Jones. Erling Storless and Jack Webb will pair up on the visitors' defence and Bobby Newbold will guard the nest.

For spares St. Andrews will strip John Newbold, Ted Ennefer and Bob Simpson. Jim Donaldson, president of St. Andrews, will in all probability handle the squad as no successor has been named to succeed Bill Findler who resigned following a tiff with the players last week.

Boston Bruins Eye Major Hockey Lead

Boston Bruins ogled first place in the National Hockey League today, much in the manner pretty girls get the eye from the stags at a college dance, and their stares almost seemed to be saying to Detroit Red Wings—"May I cut in?"

It's a point of interest, too, that the Bruins have the chance to "cut in," temporarily at any rate, when they play Montreal Canadiens in Montreal Saturday. A victory over the Habitants would hoist the Bruins into first place ahead of the Wings, who go into action Sunday after a full week layoff.

The Bruins stamped themselves as a solid outfit last night when they trimmed Canadiens 3 to 1 in Boston for their second victory in as many starts in one of the night's two games. Toronto Maple Leafs disposed of New York Rangers by a like score in the other contest at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Three facts stood out in the Bruins' victory: (1) They're opportunity grabbers; (2) Frankie Brimsek is a platinum-plated goaltender; (3) Milt Schmidt is still a lot of hockey player.

Schmidt, who threw in a tally when the Bruins defeated Rangers 3 to 1, also came up with a score against Canadiens. He banged home the puck in the second period and it proved the winner. Joe Carveth and rookie Pete Babando scored the other Boston markers, while Johnny Quilty counted the Canadiens' goal.

TWO CLUBS UNDEFEATED

With the season only a week old, the Bruins and the Wings are the only ones undefeated of the six clubs in the league. Leafs, Canadiens, Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks have found themselves on the losing end. Detroit's record stands at two victories and a draw in three contests.

Leafs came from behind to defeat Rangers for their first victory of the season. With only a tie to their credit in two previous contests, both against the Wings, Leafs spotted the Rangers a first-period goal by Tony Leswick, and then took over control of the game.

Gaye Stewart and Vic Lynn served up goals in the middle period, Lynn's coming while Rangers were two men short through penalties, and captain Syl Apps laced home the clincher in the third period.

Summaries follow: TORONTO-RANGERS: First Period—1. New York, Leswick (Warwick) 9:32. Penalties: Elmick, Junda, Bosch. Second Period—2. Toronto, Stewart (Harlikin, N. Metz) 5:25; 3. Toronto, Lynn (Metz), 14:06. Penalties: Hestall, 2. Stanowski, Stewart, Junda, Colville, Bosch, P. Watson. Third Period—4. Toronto, Apps (Eli-nick) 3:46. Penalties: Warwick (misconduct), Apps, Metz. BOSTON-CANADIENS: First Period—1. Boston, Carveth (Martin), 1:38. Penalties: Henderson, Sandford, 2 (minor and major), Flaman (minor), Carveth (major), Harvey. Second Period—2. Boston, Schmidt (Smith), 6:14. Penalties: Crawford, Bouchard, Ryan, Lach, Beaudoin. Third Period—3. Montreal, Quilty (Lezer), 2:49; 4. Boston, Babando (Gallagher, Smith), 12:06. Penalties: Leach, Chamberlain, Wilson, Flaman, Blake.

"I will not comment until I am officially notified of the order," Norgan said. "I have nothing to say."

PRAIRIE HOCKEY

SASKATOON, Sask. (CP)—Saskatoon Quakers and Edmonton Flyers Wednesday night battled through 10 minutes' overtime to a furious 2 to 2 draw. The deadlock automatically placed both squads in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League's second slot.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Western Interprovincial Football League, rumors were current today that Coach Jack West of the Bombers would not be rehired next year regardless how the team finishes.

All West himself would say was "it may be true and it may not." The grey-haired mentor from North Dakota, now in his second year here as coach, and who has been in for a lot of criticism, said "I have done my best and only for injuries we would have the western conference sewed up today. I am not quitting. If the Winnipeg club feels I have not produced, that's up to the members to do as they see fit."

If backfielders Bob Sandberg, Don Hiney and John Reagan, all suffering injuries, and other players with minor injuries were in tiptop shape "there would be nothing to it," West said.

Walter Newcombe and Wally Bowden will play Bill McColl and Vic Painter for the city golf buttons at the Colwood course Sunday at 1.30. McColl and Painter captured the button last week-end, ending the long reign of Ted Colgate and Laurie Kerr.

Dick Elliot, promising junior ace of the Washington club, Dick Newton, Jimmy Joy and Jim English will round out the men's section of the squad.

Line-up of the local water experts will differ but slightly from that of last year. Main exception, of course, will be the absence of Peter Salmon. Salmon is unable to compete for the locals

Due to a University of Washington ruling prohibiting outside appearances.

Ina Salmon, however, will be on hand to add strength to the Y.M.C.A.'s cause.

The men's team includes Eric Jubb, Dick Bowden, Ron Neilson, Gordy Lawrence, Jack Morgan, Len Coverdale, Lorne Bowden, Harold Harris and Bruce Baird.

For feminine performers McKinnon has such capable competitors as Aileen Smythe, Nita Anderson, Jean Mills, Leslie Rimmer, Jerry Long and Joan Morgan.

One of the features of the gala will undoubtedly be the appearance of Al Patnik, renowned springboard ace and former holder of the world's diving championship.

Richard And Ezinicki Stand-Outs To Victorian At All-Star Hockey

By ARCHIE WILLS
TORONTO—I saw a "Dream Team" in action the other night and they say it was worth $500,000, which is quite a lot of money even in the hockey world, which has become accustomed to what a few years ago seemed fabulous gates.

You may recall that Lester and Frank Patrick sold the whole Western Hockey League in 1926 for $350,000 and the roster of players included such stars as Eddie Shore, Frankie Boucher, George Hainsworth, Bill Cook, Bun Cook, Frank Fredrickson, Joe Simpson, Duke Keats, Dick Irvin and a variety of other players who had served with the Victoria Cougars, Vancouver Maroons, Portland Rosebuds, Calgary Tigers, Edmonton Eskimos and Saskatoon Shells.

This "Dream Team" had been selected at the close of last season's National Hockey League schedule and it was opposed in the Maple Leaf Gardens by the Maple Leafs who won the Stanley Cup.

Most interest centred in the "Dream Team," because in its ranks were the 20 top-notch players of the league. On the defence, for instance, they had four huge men, two of whom, Bill Quackenbush and Jack Stewart of the Detroit Red Wings are known as the "cement mixers," and Kenny Reardon and Butch Bouchard, of Canadiens, who are so big and strong that they can body-check a forward into the stands.

In goal the "Dream Team" had Bill Durnan of Canadiens and Frankie Brimsek of Boston. It is quite easy to see why Durnan wins the Vezina Trophy as the best goalie in the league. In Reardon and Bouchard he has two assistant goalies. They take care of many shots aimed on goal that never reach Durnan. Any goalie would look good behind that pair and some of the coaches feel that Chuck Raynor, who played with Navy in Victoria during the war years and is now with New York Rangers, would be the greatest goalie of all time behind the Canadiens' defence men.

Dick Irvin, who played in Victoria in the old days, coached the "Dream Team," and he had an array of forwards that included the first-string lines of Boston, Chicago and New York with Richard, the Canadiens' "rocket," thrown in. Boston sent along Dumart, Schmidt and Bauer; Rangers contributed Warwick, Laprade and Leswick, and Chicago paraded the two Bentley brothers, Max and Doug, and Bill Mosienko, who, unfortunately, broke his ankle in the second period when he collided with the boards. Ted Lindsay, who is the son of Bert Lindsay, who played goal for the Victoria Aristocrats back in 1911-12-13-14, rounded out the "Dream Team." Ted is now with Detroit.

The "Dream Team" wore new uniforms, the jerseys being red, with white stripes and stars, and they looked smart.

EZINICKI STEALS SHOW

Toronto Leafs, although they lifted the Stanley Cup last season, failed to place a man on the "Dream Team," but they gave the Irvin boys an awful run for the honors. As a result of the hockey broadcasts each Saturday from Toronto the Maple Leaf names are household words, but they've one lad who steals the show all the time he's on the ice and his name is Bill Ezinicki. He's the most aggressive thing on blades. He's not big but the way he barged into those huge "Dream Team" defence men showed that he respects no one. The Leafs have three good lines and it doesn't look as though Apps is through by a long way yet, despite the reports. This boy Howie Meeker is a brilliant performer and looks a lot like Gizzy Hart who played for Victoria in 1925-26.

Leafs have a smart young performer, Fleming Mackell, who is just up from junior ranks. He is 19 but he looked all right against the "Dream Team." The old-timers gave the youngster a ride but he went right after Bouchard when he laid the wood on too much.

When they got to talking about the price of the two teams, Conny Smythe, boss of the Leafs, said he could get $390,000 for his players if he put them on the market, which meant that there was close to a million dollars worth of talent in that all-star game.

LIKED RICHARD BEST

When you think of all that money and talent and you try to pick out which player you fancied the most, you are forced to the decision that it's the Rocket, Maurice Richard. He's full of color, gives a tremendous display and is an opportunist.

There is much talk in these parts as to whether or not he is a greater player than Howie Morenz, another Canadian player. They seldom think of bringing into the discussion that master flier, Cyclone Taylor, as no one's memory seems to go that far back. It is doubtful if a proper comparison can be made because hockey is now played differently than at any other time. In Taylor's day he went 60 minutes, Morenz did bursts of about 10 minutes and back-checked furiously, whereas Richard does his regular trick of about three minutes and doesn't worry too much about back-checking.

Morenz and Taylor could blaze from one end of the rink to the other, outstripping their own forwards as well as the back-checkers, but hockey isn't played that way today. The lines keep abreast of each other and Richard shines when he moves in on the net like a comet. He has a powerful shot, and he can shoot from either side, which gives him a tremendous advantage over most other forwards in the N.H.L.

When Richard is on the ice the "alert" signal is on and there's no telling when he will break into a scoring spree. He is a good-looking player, but Toronto takes special delight in riding him and the Maple Leafs concentrate on him but they couldn't stop him from setting up goals and scoring himself in the "Dream Team" game.

Clarence Campbell, president of the N.H.L., said he intends to make the "all-star" game an annual affair. Its proceeds will go to set up a benevolent fund for the use of players who pass to the sidelines. It is possible a pension system will be set up. They packed close to 15,000 people into the Garden for this first game.

Campbell will have the coaches of the six clubs pick the All-Stars and they will oppose the winners of the Stanley Cup. It will be played in a different city each year and should become a classic. I was surprised to find the players turn in such a rugged game. There was nothing of an exhibition nature to it, the teams waded right into one another and it seemed as though the Maple Leafs-Canadiens hostility was under everyone's skin. One ankle was broken, Bob Goldham, who played with Navy in Victoria in the war years and who after the game was shifted to the minors, had seven stitches placed in his head and several other players required a bit of embroidery.

English Net Stars Take Lessons In U.S.

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—England's Wightman Cup girls failed to win a single match against their American rivals this year, so two English misses are taking tennis lessons here in hopes of improving matters in the future. Joy Gannon, 19, and Jean Quertier, 21, members of England's team, have placed themselves under the tutelage of Tom Stow, one of the top United States coaches.

Use Radar To Catch Game Law Violators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Game law violators have taken to bringing illegal kills across the Canadian border in airplanes, and United States federal game wardens are tracking them down by radar.

But W. E. Crouch, 54-year-old retiring chief of the federal game wardens, who disclosed these new ramblings today, said: "We're a jump ahead of them still. We've been using planes for spotting violations, and for movement of our men, for a number of years. Now we're using radio, the walkie-talkie, and we're going into the use of radar."

Joey Brown Takes Decision From King

TORONTO (CP)—Joey Brown, 134½, of New Orleans, out-pointed Li'l Arthur King, 134, of Toronto in the feature eight-round bout Tuesday night of a boxing card at Maple Leaf Gardens before 8,500 fans.

The two negroes served up a bruising scrap, with Brown taking a unanimous but close decision. Ringsiders gave Brown four rounds and King three, with one even.

Gadsden Explains Position On Naming Deputy Police Chief

Commenting on the dispute at Wednesday's Police Commission meeting over the appointment of a deputy police chief, Ald. B. J. Gadsden said today he had delayed committing himself on the matter because he "did not wish to feel that the appointment of a deputy chief would place me under an obligation to promote him to chief when a vacancy occurred in that office."

He continued that he wished to retain his freedom to choose the best officer that could be found for the chief's position, and wanted to have the commission agree on a policy for the selection "so that any member of our own force who aspired to qualify could prepare himself to make application."

He said that he wanted the deputy chief to be an officer of experience and integrity who would receive the best co-operation of the force.

Ald. Gadsden also referred to the criticism of the public works committee at the last City Council meeting, and said he did not feel that more policemen are needed to enforce the city's by-laws but that the men now on the force should be made more efficient.

The Board of Victoria Police Commissioners at its meeting Wednesday gave Chief of Police John A. McLellan authority to proceed with another first-aid training program for the members of the city police force.

The afternoon of Nov. 4, at 3.30 was set by the Board of Victoria Police Commissioners at Wednesday's meeting for a special meeting to deal with the letting of a new contract for maintenance of the police radio system.

Britain To Quit Palestine, 1949; Asks U.N. To Act

LONDON (AP) — Britain plans to withdraw her troops and administration from Palestine by March of 1949 "at the very latest" if the United Nations fails to settle the Holy Land problem, an authoritative informant said today.

Britain a week ago served a second notice on the United Nations that she would give up her League of Nations mandate in the Holy Land, but set no date for withdrawal. The British announcement had said merely that the withdrawal would occur "within a limited period."

Britain urged the U.N. not to delay "unduly" in reaching a final decision on the future of Palestine. British sources in New York said discussions already were under way in London and Jerusalem on the withdrawal and that a target date was to be announced.

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that Gen. Alan Gordon Cunningham, British High Commissioner in Palestine, had begun a tour of small towns and settlements in the Holy Land in an attempt to impress upon the people the seriousness of Britain's intentions to withdraw.

Cunningham, a government source said, was appealing directly to the people to "get together" in order to "avoid chaos" when the British forces leave.

A Whitehall source in touch with top-level British policymakers said Britain's plans to withdraw would not "prejudice the pledge given to the United Nations by Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech-Jones that Britain will be ready to play its part in implementing any settlement acceptable to both Jews and Arabs."

To Test Clause In Forestry Act

A case of interest to the lumber industry and which involves the interpretation of the Forestry Act, is scheduled to open in Appeal Court today.

The appeal is against a judgment of Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane who granted the application of Pierre Pedenault asking for a board of arbitration to be set up under the Forestry Act to consider his right to carry logs over the property of the Esquimalt Lumber Company and of James S. Waugh.

The appellants are seeking to prevent the respondent, Pedenault, from carrying logs on their property on grounds that he is using a road which was constructed by them.

The main point to be argued before the Appeal Court will centre around a clause in the Forestry Act which stipulates that logs can be carried over "any land."

R. D. Harvey, K.C., is acting for Pedenault while the appellants are represented by H. M. Haldane.

Constable W. Elliott Leaves Police Force

Constable William Elliott of the city police force, who placed high among the 3,000 ex-service men and others who recently sat for Civil Service examinations, will doff his uniform at the end of the month and take over his new post as customs examiner.

It is understood that Constable Elliott placed 12th in the large field writing these exams.

He joined the police force in 1940 and the next year enlisted with the Royal Canadian Navy, seeing service here, in Prince Rupert and overseas during his term of service. He was discharged in 1946 and immediately rejoined the Victoria police department.

Fire In Saanich

Saanich firemen and equipment were on the job early this morning putting out a fire at the home of R. O. Cave, Eva Road.

The department responded at 12.30 and returned at 3. Chief Joseph Law in charge. Cause of the trouble was a faulty fireplace, the entire brickwork of the fireplace had to be removed. Damage by flames was not extensive, the woodwork around the fireplace being burned.

Building permits have been issued to M. Hodgins to build a 5-room house at 1590 Haultain Street $5,500; to F. M. Sutton to build a 4-room house at 1025 Bank Street, $5,000, and to J. S. Schettie to build a 5-room house on Chandler Avenue, $6,000.

Symphony Rehearsal Brings Thrill Of Anticipation

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

A visit to the rehearsal hall where the Victoria Symphony Orchestra is preparing for the season's opening concert on Tuesday, Nov. 4, brought me a real thrill of anticipation.

It is always a stimulating experience to watch this "people's orchestra" at work. Such a designation certainly fits a group of musicians who by day are teachers, stenographers, lawyers, reporters, office workers, business people, but who have had the keenness and ambition in their spare hours to weld themselves into that greatest of all musical organizations, the symphony orchestra.

They have withstood the ups and downs of six seasons, weathered the dislocation of the war years, overcome the regrettable apathy of some sections of the public, and under the quiet, authoritative, visionary leadership of Melvin Knudsen, have become an integral part of Victoria's musical scene. Not in any sense, however, do they consider that they have, musically speaking, "arrived." They are fully aware of their imperfections; fully aware of the continuous need to strive toward a high goal. But, and this is the really important point, they are constantly moving ahead, developing and broadening in scope. This first concert of the seventh season will be a most encouraging one for their hundreds of friends and supporters. I found a sweeter, more opulent tone, greater brilliance and flexibility and increased assurance in the rehearsal performances the other night. Before a crowded house, in the Royal Theatre, the orchestra will undoubtedly give a splendid performance.

'PEOPLE'S ORCHESTRA' This is probably a good moment to refer back to the term, "people's orchestra," and it should be pointed out that it is capable of a broader interpretation than that already given. It can, and does mean: People of Victoria, this is your orchestra! We, as citizens of Victoria, are responsible for its success and we could be equally guilty of its failure. It will be just as good as our encouragement and support make it. It is not an exclusive aggregate of long-haired musicians performing for a select high-brow audience. It is a group of our fellow citizens expending their time and talents to keep alive in Victoria an important asset. Its policies are tolerant, democratic and far-seeing; its programs as extensive in their range as it is feasible they should be at the present time.

There are new activities, new personalities, new works included in this season's agenda. The bringing of the Vancouver Symphony to the city for concerts in December and March is an admirable innovation and a generous one.

CONCERT MASTER From Vancouver also comes the concert master for the opening concert. Carlo Smalley is an English-born violinist who came to Vancouver in 1930 and is now concert master for CBR, director of CBR musical programs and featured soloist. He is also a member of the Vancouver Symphony. His position at the first desk of the Victoria orchestra has already had a noticeable effect upon the string section.

In keeping with his policy of presenting the most important work last, thus avoiding any effect of anti-climax, Melvin Knudsen will bring November's concert to a close with the performance of the effective and lovely Concerto in E, by Moritz Moszkowski. The central figure of this high light will be Gertrude Huntley Green, well-loved and highly-gifted Canadian pianist, who will appear as soloist with the orchestra. Those who recall Gertrude Huntley Green's former guest appearance in the Grieg E minor Concerto, will be well aware of the rare pleasure in store for them. Many hundreds of Victorians will be happy to welcome this brilliant artist and former Victorian back to the local concert stage. The Moszkowski Concerto will have a special significance for Mrs. Green who has stirring recollections of having played it in Paris with the composer.

The season, which is commencing so auspiciously, will present many other notable features, including the guest appearance of Nicolai Fiore, Canada's outstanding flautist, in February, and a "pop" concert in April, details of which are being kept strictly secret, but which it is known will create considerable excitement in the musical life of the city.

So the Victoria Symphony Orchestra is setting out on its seventh straight season, confident that the public wants symphonic music and that with the support of the public it can continue to grow and develop and produce ever finer symphony as the years go by.

Island Coal Output Rises Slightly During September

A slight gain in coal production of collieries on Vancouver Island in September over September, 1946, was reported today by the chief inspector of mines.

Last month island coal mines produced 36,285 long tons of coal, compared with 36,026 during the previous September.

The nine-month output for this year, however, is 359,071 long tons, compared with 403,884 produced during the corresponding 1946 period.

Among the main island producers, No. 10 Mine, South Wellington, was the only one showing a gain in September. Its production rose from 15,799 long tons in September, 1946, to 17,195 long tons last month.

Gains were reported in September productions in all districts of the province. Total September production this year was 136,817 long tons compared with 90,606 long tons for the previous September.

In the East Kootenay district, the largest producing area, production rose to 96,627 long tons from the September, 1946, output of 51,288. Main increase was caused by the opening up of strip operations on the Big Showing properties at Corbin, which last month produced 21,822 long tons.

In the Nicola-Princeton district output rose from 2,591 long tons in September, 1946, to 2,888 long tons last month, while in the northern district coal production was 1,017 long tons, compared with 701 long tons during September, 1946.

Coal produced during the first nine months of this year totaled 1,088,270 long tons for the whole province, compared with 1,057,557 long tons during the corresponding 1946 period.

Yagat Singh, East Indian, was fined $5 when found guilty on a charge of fighting on the public streets, Yates-Street, contrary to the city public morals by-law, in city police court this morning. He had been fighting with a white man. In Magistrate H. C. Hall's opinion both men were guilty of the violation.

Secretary Of State Martin To Give 2 Addresses Here

HON. PAUL MARTIN
A Canadian who has made an outstanding contribution toward world government, Hon. Paul Joseph James Martin, Canadian Secretary of State, will make two addresses in Victoria Friday of next week.

At noon Mr. Martin will address a Canadian Club luncheon at the Empress Hotel. At 6.15 he will address a dinner meeting of the Laurier Club at the Douglas Hotel.

Forty-four-year old Mr. Martin is a native of Ottawa who attended St. Michael's College, University of Toronto, Osgoode Hall law school, Trinity College, Cambridge, and the Geneva School of International Studies, Geneva.

He holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from Toronto and LL.M. degree from Harvard.

A member of the staff of the University of Western Ontario from 1931 to 1935, he was appointed King's Counsel in 1937, and took a prominent part in League of Nations societies and the Institute of International Affairs. In 1938 he was appointed Canadian government delegate to the assembly of the League of Nations.

Defeated in a by-election in 1928, he had been elected to the House of Commons in the 1935 general election. He has won each succeeding general election. He represents the Ontario constituency of Essex East.

In 1943 Mr. Martin became parliamentary assistant to the Minister of Labor and in 1944 he attended the International Labor Conference in Philadelphia as a Canadian government delegate. The following year he represented the Canadian government at the governing body meeting of the International Labor Office, London. On April 18, 1945, he was appointed Secretary of State.

Early last year Mr. Martin was named Canadian delegate to the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations. He later attended as Canadian delegate to the General Assembly of the U.N.

Police Find Stolen New Car Abandoned

A 1947 maroon Buick sedan, stolen from Davis Motors Ltd., 900 Fort Street, at 2 this morning by two young men, was recovered undamaged and abandoned by Cpl. Jack Hamilton of the Saanich police in the driveway of the home of Charles King on Cedar Hill Cross Road.

Constable Thomas Smith, on his beat, reported to the station at 1.55 that he had just witnessed two men in a new car coming out of the View Street entrance of the motor firm. This was soon discovered to be a theft, a window having been broken in the east side to enable entry. A license plate was taken from another car and put on the Buick, which was brand new without a license plate.

City police immediately radioed other Greater Victoria departments and Provincial Police here and at Duncan to be on the look-out for the stolen vehicle. When found by Cpl. Hamilton the car had done less than 20 miles.

The two youths responsible for the theft have not been apprehended. The car has been dusted for fingerprints.

People Welcome Chest Canvassers

Returns are starting to roll in to Prince Robert House on the current Community Chest campaign, and the campaign is expected to pick up momentum from now on, Philip Dewing, honorary treasurer, reported today.

By this morning $6,892 had been entered on the books, as the canvassers started on their fourth day of collecting.

D. G. Decker, executive secretary of the Community Chest, reported that householders are giving canvassers a much better reception this year than previously, and show a much greater awareness of the need for the Community Chest and the work done by the 15 "Red Feather" agencies financed by it.

The Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. today sent a donation of $50 to Mayor Percy George for the Mayor's Fund for parcels to Britain.

South Africa High Commissioner Seeks To Better Relations Here

A desire to strengthen even more the good relations existing between Canada and South Africa was expressed here today by Dr. P. R. Viljoen, South African High Commissioner to Canada.

Dr. Viljoen, who bears a resemblance to British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, is making his first trip to western Canada since his arrival in this country two years ago. He hopes to make good use of his visit in strengthening the bonds between the two Commonwealths.

His country, he said, firmly believes in inter-Commonwealth trade. "We feel, at this stage of international difficulties, that the Commonwealth of Nations is the surest anchor we have . . . together with our association with the United States."

Dr. Viljoen pointed out that South Africa now stands as Canada's third best customer. The sister Commonwealth "buys from Canada wheat, lumber, newsprint, railroad cars, buses and other manufactured goods. Present orders for many of these goods are already extensive, but the High Commissioner said his country is looking for even more.

GOLD RESERVES And, though in the sterling area, South Africa has the money to buy. "We are in the happy position of having good gold reserves," he said. As an example of her good financial standing he remarked on the recent $320,000,000 loan to Great Britain by his country. "We have gone all out to help Britain," Dr. Viljoen said.

Turning to the internal situation in the Union of South Africa where the Europeans are split up into English-speaking and Afrikaans-speaking people, the High Commissioner said conditions were good. South Africa had recognized the position to the extent that both sections were given the fullest rights. Both Afrikaans and English are used freely and the Parliament and civil service business is conducted in both languages.

In fact, the High Commissioner added, it is a serious handicap if a government member or civil servant was not bi-lingual.

NO RACIAL DIFFERENCES South Africa does not have

South Africa High Commissioner Seeks To Better Relations Here

religious problems, he said. The Afrikaanders are members of the Dutch Reform Church, comparable to the Presbyterian Church, and in whose development many Scottish ministers played a leading part.

Intermarriage between Afrikaanders and those of British descent is common, he said. Dr. Viljoen himself married a girl of Scottish descent.

Sport, in which South Africans are very active, also plays a leading part in adding the two sections to get along. In a country where the climate allows outdoor sports the year-round, nearly all able-bodied citizens take active part.

The Union is strong, Dr. Viljoen said, and is developing very rapidly, particularly in the industrial fields. A fact in which the war played a major part. South Africa was cut off by the war and had to build up her own industries both for her own sake and for the sake of the rest of the Allies.

WITH BOER COMMANDOES Dr. Viljoen, who was born on Feb. 28, 1889, in the Transvaal Republic, fought in the South African War with the Boer Commandoes from 1901 to 1902. He was educated in South Africa, London and Berne, Switzerland, and in World War I, fought with the Allies, winning the Military Cross.

He was first appointed as bacteriologist in January, 1913, at the Onderstepoort Veterinary Research Laboratories, and in 1918 became professor at the Transvaal University College. A few years later he was promoted, first to assistant and, later to Deputy Director of Veterinary Services for the Union.

In 1930, he was appointed Under-Secretary for Agriculture, and in 1933 was promoted to Secretary of Agriculture and Forestry. He held this post until July, 1945, when he received his present appointment.

He also held several other posts during his term of office in South Africa and represented the Union at many overseas conferences. Dr. and Mrs. Viljoen plan to stay here until Sunday and anticipate they will spend some time at Sidney visiting Admiral Percy Nelles, R.C.N. (retired), with whom they made good friends in Ottawa.

Converted Navy Ship To Operate Here On Oceanographic Work

A converted mine detector ship of the Fishermen's Reserve fleet will operate out of Esquimalt shortly as the first ship on the Pacific coast equipped for oceanographic surveys, it was announced today.

The vessel, the Ehkoli, has been converted to chart underwater highways for salmon, halibut and other fisheries on the west coast. Commanded by Lieut. R. B. Hayward, R.C.N., and operated by a navy crew, the ship's operations will be co-ordinated with those of the Fisheries Research Board and the National Research Council.

Representatives from both departments will be aboard the Ehkoli to work on the fisheries program.

Report Sinclair Chosen Postmaster

John B. Sinclair, acting Victoria postmaster, has obtained the highest rating in a competition for the position of city postmaster here and is expected to be confirmed in that position shortly, it was learned today.

While no official confirmation of the reports has been received in Victoria yet, word will arrive from Ottawa in the next day or so, it is expected.

Mr. Sinclair, who was born in Scotland and came to Canada 41 years ago, joined the post office staff here 38 years ago and served the last 11 years as assistant postmaster to G. H. Gardiner, who is now on retirement leave.

In the promotion of Mr. Sinclair, the Post Office Department will follow through its policy, established last year, to abolish the local assistant postmastership where the assistant has been promoted to postmaster.

Centenary Of 'Abide With Me' To Be Marked By Churches

LONDON (CP)—Churches of many denominations throughout Great Britain and in other parts of the world will hold services Nov. 16 commemorating the centenary of the hymn "Abide With Me."

The date was chosen as the nearest Sunday to the 100th anniversary of the death of Rev. Henry Francis Lyte of Brixham, Devonshire, who made final revision of his famous work a few days before he died.

Among observances will be the unveiling of a memorial tablet to Lyte in the Poets' Corner of Westminster Abbey.

Inspirational power of the hymn to men and women in distress is being stressed by the organization arranging the centenary celebrations, headed by Rev. Henry James Garland of Millom, Cumberland.

"Nurse Cavell faced the firing squad repeating 'Lyte's hymn,' Garland wrote in a recent newspaper article. "Shackleton confronted death in the snows to the comfort of its words."

"When 105 passengers perished in the R.M.S. Stella at the Casquet Rocks, an unknown woman climbed to the bridge and sang it. Its tune has been heard faintly from behind walls of debris deep in the galleries of disaster-stricken mines."

"A member of the British Expeditionary Force wrote of waiting on the beaches at La Panne in the Dunkerque evacuation. A terrific air attack developed. Immediately one soldier with an accordion began to play 'Abide With Me.' Every man stood at attention," he writes, "and sang with deep feeling."

Returns To Manage Victoria District

NORMAN O. HAUGH

The return of Norman O. Haugh, C.L.U., as manager of the Victoria district office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has been announced by the Canadian head office. Mr. Haugh, who has been in Ottawa since 1930, succeeds W. W. Macdonald, who has relinquished his duties because of ill health.

A native of Guelph, Ontario, Mr. Haugh began his Metropolitan career in Victoria as an agent in March, 1917. In September, 1918, he was promoted to assistant manager in the same district and his success in this position led to his appointment as manager in 1924. He was transferred in 1930 to the same capacity to Ottawa, Ont.

Mr. Haugh is a chartered life underwriter and has always been active in the Life Underwriter Association of Canada, having held office in the Ottawa branch.

At his new headquarters located at 612 View Street, Victoria, and the branch office at Bank of Montreal Building, Nanaimo, Mr. Haugh will direct the activities of three assistant managers, 23 agents, and 10 clerks who serve Metropolitan policyholders in Victoria, Nanaimo and neighboring communities.

PAPUANS ADORN HAIR WITH FEATHERS, FLOWERS AND COMBS

During the last world war many thousands of white soldiers came to know some of the Papuans. While stationed on the big island of New Guinea, they talked with the natives and learned about the customs of the tribes.

The Papuans have broad noses and their skins are dark, almost black. They use shells and the teeth of fish or furs of animals to make necklaces and earrings. They also adorn themselves with the feathers of birds.

Jungles and mountains cover the greater part of New Guinea. Some of the mountain peaks rise to a height of two and a half miles above sea level.

Papuan men, as well as women, decorate their hair with flowers and feathers. Some of them also stick long bamboo combs in their hair. Such a comb may project more than a foot in front of the forehead.

When his wedding day comes, a Papuan man decorates himself gayly, and his bride also puts on her best. Ornaments of feathers, bones, shells and beads are worn. Usually the wedding is a simple affair. The friends of the couple watch while the groom goes to the house of the bride, takes her by the hand, and leads her to the home which he has made ready for her.

Some Papuans drag the wedding out. One group has the custom of having the bride and groom take seats back to back in the bride's home. On one side of the room stand men, on the other side women. An aged man steps forward and takes the right hand of the man and places it in the right hand of the woman. Then he spurs water from his mouth (a little for each one) and says, "May an enemy never kill you, and may an evil spirit never cause you sickness."

The little touch of water is only a start of the troubles of the bride and groom. They are allowed to move around a little in the daytime, but each night for four nights they are forced to sit back to back. Several of their friends keep company with them, and wake them up if they start to go to sleep.

Recreation Council

Councillor E. P. Cummins was elected to succeed Joseph Casey as president of the Saanich Recreation Council at the annual general meeting of the group held Wednesday night in the council chamber of the City Hall. Others elected to executive position were: Mrs. L. Loiselle, vice-president; Mrs. F. Blaus, secretary; Mrs. Alys Thomas, corresponding secretary, and Ainsley Worthington, treasurer.

Mr. Casey, in his report on activities of the past year, noted more than 1,000 children had been accommodated for six weeks during the summer at supervised playgrounds at an approximate cost of $1.10 each.

Later in the meeting, it was announced Qu'Appelle Park would be used as a supervised playground next year.

Trans-Jordan King Seeks Stronger Links With Arab States

JERUSALEM (AP)—Diplomatic circles here see indications that King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan is strengthening his relations with surrounding Arab states because of Britain's uncertain position in the Middle East and her prospective withdrawal from Palestine.

These sources point to a recent luncheon in Amman, Abdullah's mountain capital, for Arab League delegates from Syria, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Iraq and Yemen.

This was the first time representatives of all the Arab states had gathered in Amman. The luncheon was held to demonstrate Arab solidarity on the Palestine issue and diplomatic sources said that except for that no promises were made and none were expected by the other Arab states.

There was a feeling, however, on the part of many observers that Abdullah could be expected to drop his "Greater Syria Plan" until the Palestine case is settled.

OPPOSED BY MOST

Under his "Greater Syria Plan" Abdullah seeks to reunite Syria, Palestine, Trans-Jordan and Lebanon. While many Syrians favor some form of Greater Syria, most oppose Abdullah's plan. Lebanon, the only Arab country more than 50 per cent Christian, finds little merit in any such plan.

"Abdullah apparently is worried by Britain's decision to withdraw from Palestine," said one British source. "Surrounded by unfriendly Arab countries because of his Greater Syria scheme and with Palestine partitioned by a not too friendly Palestine Arab government dominated by the Grand Mufti, he would be more or less cut off."

Trans-Jordan, closely linked to Britain by treaty, is supplied through Palestine ports, this

Lobster Experiment At Nanaimo Lagoon Working Out Well

An experiment being conducted by fisheries experts at a secret lagoon near Nanaimo to determine the feasibility of a Pacific coast lobster industry is going along satisfactorily, it was learned today.

G. J. Alexander, deputy fisheries minister for B.C., who is following the experiments being conducted by the federal fisheries department staff at the Nanaimo Pacific Biological station, reported today there was no reason to be pessimistic about the experiment and the lobsters, brought here from the Atlantic coast more than a year ago were still alive.

Whether or not the lobsters will acclimatize themselves to Pacific waters and reproduce satisfactorily is a big question mark which is hoped to be solved. Previous experiments, including one conducted years ago at Sooke, never satisfied officials.

Under the later experiments, which are being watched also in the United States, more rigid controls have been set up. Speedier transportation, along with better handling facilities in bringing the lobsters from Nova Scotia, may contribute to the success of the present experiment.

Should the experiments give encouraging results, it is expected that the huge project of bringing thousands of lobsters to this coast would be undertaken by the federal government. But years are expected to elapse before the experiments prove whether or not the industry would be feasible.

Deanery Conference Takes Novel Form

Novelty marked the annual conference of the Deanery of Victoria held in the Cathedral Memorial Hall. Following the singing of well-known hymns, the rural dean, Rev. F. Pike, offered the opening prayers. After a brief address the rural dean explained the purpose of the meeting, the routine business of conference was dealt with, including the election of the Rev. F. Pike and Capt. C. F. Gibson as the representative of the Deanery to the Diocesan Executive Committee. The meeting was then handed over to the special committee that had arranged the program.

"Facing the Facts" in the Deanery was the theme, and this was presented in five acts.

In the first of these Ven. Archdeacon A. de L. Nunns took the conference on a tour of the deanery, which extends beyond the confines of Greater Victoria and includes the Saanich Peninsula, Salt Spring Island, the Gulf Islands, and also Colwood, Langford, Metchosin and Sooke up to Jordan River.

Rev. T. L. Leadbeater with a group of choir boys and cubs showed how the church seeks to face the needs of the "church of tomorrow" with the use of the radio, television, and how the home must take its part in this important work.

Sitting on a table on the platform with his canine travelling companion by his side, Rev. J. F. Martin, the priest in charge of St. Paul's Wayside Church enabled the conference to see that in supporting this work, the church in Victoria is facing up to her responsibilities toward those who are cut off from the regular ministrations of the church.

The following act showed the membership of St. Saviour's Diocesan Men's Society in action. We listened in to a business meeting and heard the reports of the various committees, dealing with recruiting, visiting, boys' work, community efforts as well as work on the church buildings. Rev. Kendell and his men showed what could be done when the men are ready to play their part.

Rev. E. Munn of St. Barnabas Parish, dealing with the work of a priest in his parish, drew attention to the loss that the church must sustain when the time of her clergy is so taken up with multitudinous activities that they have not time to fulfill their ordination vows.

Once again the stage was occupied by a group. This time it was the Rev. G. Lim Yuen with some members of his congregation engaged in an act of worship, this being conducted in the Chinese language.

The closing act showed the dean giving some sound advice to the newly-elected president of the A.Y.P.A. when she came to him with some of the problems that confronted her in her endeavors to help her group see more clearly why the A.Y.P.A. must live up to its motto for Christ and His Church.

The conference ended with all saying the office of Compline.

Fordham President Asked For Apology

Fordham University had the choice of apologizing for charge of its president, the Rev. Robert I. Gannon, S.J. (left), that operators of the Polo Grounds are "extortionists," or else playing its home football games elsewhere. Horace Stoneham (right), president of the N.Y. Giants baseball organization and a Fordham graduate, delivered the ultimatum, calling upon Father Gannon "to retract and apologize for his unwarranted statements."

Anniversary Of El Alamein Celebrated At London Gathering

LONDON (CP)—The fifth anniversary of the battle of El Alamein, which Winston Churchill has described as "turning-point in the war," will be celebrated by nearly 7,000 "desert rats" in the Albert Hall tonight.

It will be recalled that at 21.40 hours this day five years ago, the Eighth Army, with its back to the wall at El Alamein, unloosed one of the biggest barrages of military history on Field Marshal Rommel's Axis divisions.

The annual reunion will be presided over by Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery. Foreign Secretary Bevin will be guest of honor.

In a special message published in the London Daily Graphic today, Lord Montgomery sent "my personal greetings" to those in Britain "and to all those in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Canada and in the Dominions and colonies of the British Empire" who will not be able to attend.

Rommel, who had medals ready for entry into Alexandria, expected the British tanks to follow and disposed his armor accordingly to trap them, but Montgomery instead ordered the British infantry forward to drive a lane through the opposite lines. With this done, the tanks plunged through the gap and the enemy was torn up from the rear. By the afternoon of Nov. 3, Rommel had lost an estimated 9,000 prisoners, 300 aircraft, 270 guns and 260 tanks.

Montgomery announced Nov. 6 from the front line that the "Eighth Army and the Allied air forces have gained a complete victory over the German and Italian forces. The enemy is completely smashed."

Luney Bros. and Hamilton Ltd. have written the City Council asking that the fire hydrant in front of their office at 825 Bay Street be moved as it is a traffic hazard. The company states it is half covered with weeds and has already been struck by a number of cars. They notified the city they would accept no further responsibility for damage to the hydrant and will hold the city responsible for any future damage to property from the hydrant should it be broken.

WITH NO RINSING, NO WIPING, SPIC and SPAN makes cleaning so easy you'll use it every day—for cleaning the refrigerator, woodwork, bathroom tile, linoleum, kitchen stove and sink—dozens of things. What's more, SPIC and SPAN makes the next cleaning even easier—because it leaves a protective coat that seals out dust and dirt. It's safe, too—safe for paint, safe for hands!

Joan Crawford In Exciting Drama

"Humoresque," Warner Bros. new screen drama, of a woman's love for a concert violinist, starring Joan Crawford and John Garfield, opens tonight at the York Theatre. The film, based on Fannie Hurst's famous story, features Oscar Levant and J. Carroll Nash and a large supporting cast that includes Joan Chandler, Ruth Nelson, Tom D'Andrea, Peggy Knudsen, Craig Stevens and Paul Cavanagh.

DOMINION THEATRE

Before Joel McCrea signed his current contract with Samuel Goldwyn, he made a written agreement with his wife, Frances Dee, never to appear in a picture with her, because it was a possible cause of jealousy and matrimonial dissension. Joel is currently appearing with Miriam Hopkins and Merle Oberon at the Dominion Theatre in "These Three," Goldwyn's latest production for release through Film Classics.

ATLAS THEATRE

Wanda Hendrix, the extremely talented young actress who scored such a tremendous success as the ill-fated, much abused little "slavery" in "Confidential Agent," has a key role in Paramount's "Welcome Stranger," the new Bing Crosby-Barry Fitzgerald starrer now at the Atlas Theatre.

In her first film under her new Paramount contract, the teen-aged actress is cast as a freckle-faced, moon-struck daughter of the drunken editor of a small town newspaper. She has a crush on young Doctor Crosby, and when he cures her father of his affliction, her love grows all out of proportion.

Where To Go Tonight

(As Advertised)

ATLAS—Bing Crosby in "Welcome Stranger."

CAPITOL—Joan Bennett and Charles Bickford in "The Woman on the Beach."

DOMINION—Eddie Cantor in "Strike Me Pink."

OAK BAY—"Mrs. Parkington," starring Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon.

YORK—"Humoresque," starring Oscar Levant.

ROYAL THEATRE

"Duel in the Sun" was adapted from the Niven Busch novel of the same title. It is now playing at the Royal Theatre through Selznick Releasing Organization. Co-starring in this Selznick International Picture are such high-powered players as Jennifer Jones, who won the Oscar in 1933 for her sensitive portrayal of the French peasant girl in "The Song of Bernadette," Gregory Peck, Joseph Cotton, Lionel Barrymore, Lillian Gish, Walter Huston and Herbert Marshall.

RIO THEATRE

Motion picture producers often become so engrossed in a picture they are making that they become slaves to their own designs. This is exactly what happened to Gabriel Pascal who was at the helm of G.C.F.'s technicolor presentation of Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra," at the Rio Theatre. Ever since Pascal began the planning of this historic film satire he has become one of the foremost collectors and students of Egyptology.

Vancouver Wins Opening Battle In Coast Hockey

SEATTLE (AP)—The Vancouver Canucks staged off Seattle Ironmen drives and then put together two third-period goals, with Bill Carse and Eddie Watson teaming up for both scores, to trounce Seattle 3 to 2 Wednesday night in the Pacific Coast Hockey League opener here.

Carse, former Chicago Black Hawk performer returning to the ice after a year layoff, took a Watson pass at 2:03 in the third period for one tally and at 15:18 Watson took another from Carse for the other score.

TWO STRAIGHT WINS

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Tacoma Rockets climbed to the top of the northern division of the Coast Hockey League Wednesday night when they racked up their second win in two nights by defeating New Westminster Royals 4 to 2 before a crowd that was sparse because of a transportation strike.

Pete Kalapaca, Dick Milford, Alex Watt and Rudy Fillion picked up an assist. Hugh Callahan collected a brace of assists.

Red Carr and defenceman Jack O'Reilly scored the New Westminster counters, Carr's coming in the first period and O'Reilly's in the third.

ODD GOAL VICTORY

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Shamrocks, with a fast first-period offensive, defeated Fresno 3 to 2 in their Coast League hockey clash Wednesday night.

Bill Clements, Shamrock forward, tallied the first goal in 6:55 of the first period, and within four minutes Ed Redmond added another. The third Shamrock goal came midway in the second period, Wywrot plunking in a pass from Joe Evans and Clements.

The winners played a tightly defensive game after their opening attack. Fresno's Bill Whittet scored first for the losers in the second period; but the second Falcon tally came in the last 47 seconds of the game when the Shamrocks had only four players on the ice.

Longdon Pilots Five Winners At Golden Gate Park

ALBANY, Calif. (AP)—Moving into the lead at the head of the stretch, Grandpere, ridden by Johnny Longdon, won the $20,000 added Oakland Stakes for two-year-olds at Golden Gate Fields Wednesday by three-quarters of a length.

The winner was coupled with Solidarity as an entry, and the latter ran second. Call Bell was third. Time for the six furlongs was 1:11.

Longdon, who has had four victories to the lead at the head of the stretch in the current meet, surpassed himself by scoring five first and one second in his six starts. Nationally, his record is close behind that of Chicago's Steve Brooks.

Longdon's ride aboard Grandpere was the richest of the day. The victory for the first running of this event was worth $13,300 to Grandpere.

Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon, the incomparable and unforgettable team which made box-office history with "Mrs. Miniver," "Blossoms in the Dust" and "Madame Currie" are together again on the screen in "Mrs. Parkington," as two of fiction's most colorful characters, in one of the year's lushest love stories.

26 Greeks Killed

ATHENS (AP) — Press reports said Wednesday night that 26 gendarmes were killed and four others wounded when a military truck was ambushed by guerrillas on the northwestern coast of the Peloponnese.

The Appeal Court Tuesday dismissed the appeal against conviction of Russell and Nobel Moore of Vancouver, both found guilty of retaining stolen property. The court, however, reduced penitentiary terms of five and four years imposed on the two men respectively to two and one-half years each. M. A. Van Rogen represented the appellants, while J. B. Clearhugh, K.C., was Crown counsel.

KIMBERLEY, B.C. (CP)—David Erickson, timberman, was killed, and Frank Lafortune, working with him, injured, when struck by a slide in the Sullivan mine here Wednesday night. Lafortune suffered shock and bruises.

Air Search Held Up By Bad Weather; Oil On Lake New Clue

PENTICTON (CP)—Air search operations for the R.C.A.F. photographic plane missing since last Saturday with nine persons aboard were nearly at a standstill early today as inclement weather forced the international air search armada to wait for a break in the overcast, drizzly sky.

However, an early investigation of an oil slick on Skaha Lake was expected to be carried out as soon as wind-swept waves calmed to permit an aerial survey.

The oil slick on the lake, about a mile from search headquarters here, was reported late Wednesday by F.O. J. N. Hall of Edmonton, one of the pilots of the dozen planes, operating out of here.

A late check was made following F.O. Hall's report of the oil slick but a low overcast and drizzling rain prevented immediate confirmation.

B.C. Provincial Police were also expected to proceed by boat to the reported oil slick which F.O. Hall said "appeared as if it were bubbling up from below."

ASK ABOUT FLARES

If weather proved favorable reported flares arching through the night sky in the Arrow Lakes district, 95 miles northeast of here, would also be probed further although searchers Wednesday scoured the area without success.

The planes from the R.C.A.F., the United States army, navy and Coast Guard and private craft have threaded narrow, deep valleys and jagged snow-covered rocks in attempts to discover the missing B-25 bomber.

All search personnel were unanimous in describing the area as one of the most difficult stretches to fly over on the continent. They said wind speed in 30 minutes frequently varied by more than 70 miles and at all times they were flirting with dangerous icing conditions.

One of the difficulties facing them was a snowfall since the missing craft disappeared, covering mountains down to a height of 5,000 feet. They said the snow would prevent all but the rudder from being visible to the searchers eyes.

Meanwhile, United States army, navy and Coast Guard planes prepared to hunt down "a bright object" which the airport manager at Oroville, Wash., 40 miles south of here, said had been seen by a hunting party on nearby Mount Hull today.

REVELSTOKE

The search also may spread to the mountainous area around Revelstoke following a report that a "silver-colored aircraft was seen flying high with engines in trouble" in that area about the time the plane disappeared Saturday.

Additional aircraft were expected to join in the international air armada later today. Searchmaster Flt. Lt. Arnold Brige of Edmonton requested more searching aircraft as reports continue to pour in extending the search to a wider area.

Truman, Cabinet In Lengthy Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman reviewed the European economic crisis today at a cabinet session which laid the groundwork for an afternoon meeting with congressional leaders.

The cabinet members, who never say much about their talks with the President, were more silent than usual as they left the session. It was the longest cabinet meeting—2 hours and 35 minutes—since Mr. Truman became President.

Secretary of Commerce Harrison told reporters that Mr. Truman would have a statement later.

Emergency aid for dollar-short western European nations was the foremost problem under consideration by administration officials.

Ultimately, it is pointed out, there will be a large gain in the export figures, since the new Canadian mills will be shipping a high-value finished product in place of a comparatively low-value raw material.

The new policy fits in, officials here point out, with the policy recently announced for the important Ontario newspaper industry by Ontario Premier George Drew.

Time Lost Through Strikes Increases

OTTAWA (CP)—The Packinghouse workers' strike, accounting for the majority of time lost through strikes in September, sent time loss figures up sharply compared with August, but the September totals were much less than in September, 1946, the Labor Department reported today.

In its monthly report on strikes and lockouts, the department noted that the meat strike was responsible for about 63 per cent of the workers involved in all strikes and more than 72 per cent of the total time lost in September.

Preliminary figures for the month show 41 strikes and lockouts, involving 19,879 workers with a time loss of 276,859 man-working days, compared with 36 strikes in August, with 7,184 workers involved and a time loss of 52,314 days. In September, 1946, there were 37 strikes, involving 33,451 workers, with a time loss of 657,714 days.

OPEN FOR BUSINESSOttawa Considering Development Plan To Aid Paper MillsBy NORMAN MACLEOD

OTTAWA—A national development policy for Canada in which the pulp and paper industry holds a major role is now before the federal cabinet here, informed sources revealed today.

If the present proposals receive cabinet approval, these sources disclose, exports of logs for pulpwood to the United States will be prohibited, exports of pulpwood to the United States will be curtailed immediately and gradually reduced over a long-term period, and Canadian mills will be encouraged to enter the field of manufacture of finer grade papers, into which the Canadian pulp exports have been going mainly in recent years.

The purpose back of the policy is the strengthening of the nation's economy over a long-term period, combined with assistance immediately in the problem of meeting the current crisis of scarcity of United States dollars.

The first purpose will be achieved by retaining in Canada the processing of raw materials now being shipped out of the country on a huge scale to be manufactured by United States labor into a high-cost production. Hitherto Canadian mills have been confining themselves mainly to news print, leaving the finer paper field to United States mills, despite the fact that it is by far the most profitable department of the industry and yields the greatest proportion of labor to volume of output.

Says Airline Has Too Many Nurses

EDMONTON (CP)—Trans-Canada Air Lines was criticized Wednesday night for taking nurses from hospitals by Arthur Swanson of Toronto, president of the Canadian Hospital Council.

He told the Institute of Hospital Administrators and Trustees here that T.C.A. has 142 nurses at present and asked why nurses were needed on planes any more than on trains.

He added that hospitals must operate on a business-like basis and the public must expect to pay more for hospital services than it has in the past because of rising costs.

The chums pack this year is 418,685, compared with 481,024 at this date last year.

The sockeye pack this year is 285,529 cases to date, slightly more than half the 1946 pack at this date.
